SULZER BEATEN, DENIES CHARGES

ATTACK ON BROKAW SAID TO HAVE DOUBLE ENEMIES, MOTIVE

Attorney for Accused Man Says Impeachment Unusual

The Opposition Tries to Show Specific Campaign Collections

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The Sulzer court of impeachment refused today to dismiss the eight articles of impeachment, reserving final decision until the close of the case, when the points raised by the defense will be determined. Sulzer, through his attorney, denied all charges.

Governor Sulzer's answer to the charges of impeachment, filed with the court today, entered a general denial of each and every one of them.

Attorney August G. Fox resumed his argument in behalf of the Sulzer contumacious. He opened by attacking the statement of Judge Parker that the constitution permitted the assembly to impeach at any time for any cause.

"This attempt on the part of the managers to remove William Sulzer for acts performed while he was a private citizen," he said, "is a novel doctrine, never tried before in any court of justice, never broached in any constitutional convention, never submitted to any English speaking people."

PERSONAL ENMITY MENTIONED. "It was to be expected that sooner or later the popular branch of some legislature, acting in the heat of political excitement, possibly with a desire to get rid of a man who was one of some powerful political leader, might seek to overthrow the well settled limitations of their lawful authority."

"If the view of the honorable managers be correct, then indeed all questions of constitutional limitation of construction is beside the mark, and this court should proceed to register whatever decree it may be persuaded will best please the present public demand."

"We shall all do well, when urged to disregard the principles established by law, to recall the words of one of the greatest judges, 'to press forward a great principle by breaking through every other great principle that stands in the way of its establishment, is as

TYLER HENSHAW ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Young Attorney Said to Have Passed Crisis

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Tyler Henshaw, attorney-at-law, and son of Supreme Justice Henshaw, is ill with typhoid fever at St. Mary's hospital, but it was believed this morning by attending physicians that the crisis had been passed and that the chances for his recovery are good. Henshaw was stricken while on his honeymoon, a week after his marriage. For three weeks he has been at the hospital with Doctors William W. Kerr and Dudley Tait in close attendance.

"I think Tyler is safely on the road to recovery," said Justice Henshaw this morning. "I have received a most favorable report from the hospital, and of course we are hoping for the best."

Young Henshaw is a graduate of the law association and is well known and liked in the legal fraternity.

Discharges Jury "Without Thanks"

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—"You are now discharged, without my thanks and without my compliments," in ending an arraignment of the six-man jury which refused to convict Mrs. B. Graster of vagrancy Mrs. Graster, who formerly conducted a house at 1231 Davis street, was accused by four reputable women of maintaining a disorderly house. With Mrs. P. Snyder Mrs. Graster was arrested September 1 after the women of the neighborhood had complained of the early morning celebrations in the Graster home.

Probation Bars Voting, Smoking, and "Going Out"

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—As a penalty for their operations in obtaining false signatures to a referendum petition against a county salary ordinance, A. B. Maple and Earle G. Clarke cannot vote for three years, cannot smoke cigarettes, visit pool parlors or drink. Instead they must stay home nights, Maple must give his pay envelope to his wife and Clarke must support his widowed mother. All of these conditions of probation were specified by Judge Jackson of the Superior Court in a judgment on file today, failing which the two men must go to Folsom penitentiary for three years.

NEW COMPLAINT IN ARTHUR BECK SUIT

Court Orders That He Be Specific Regarding Gordon

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Directed by the Superior Court to make more specific his allegations, Arthur A. Beck, the civil engineer of Oakland, who is suing Phil K. Gordon of the Southern Pacific company for $50,000 damages, for alienation of the affections of his wife Lillian, filed an amended complaint today. Although the document is more brief by far than that previously placed on record, it contains one rather startling allegation in view of the court decisions relative to violations of the Mann white slave act.

"That on or about September 13, 1912, the defendant aided, abetted and assisted in the transportation of the said Lillian from Grants Pass, Oregon, to Sacramento, California, for the purpose of her subjugation and her being turned into himself."

ALLEGATION INSUFFICIENT. When the case was heard the court held that the allegation of marriage between Beck and his wife was insufficient, and that the date of the wedding was supplied. The reason for the filing of the amended complaint setting forth that the couple were married September 8, 1901 at Detroit, and have one child, Donald, aged 10. As before, Beck charges Gordon with inducing the affections and fellowship existing between himself and his wife after the two had become acquainted at Grants Pass, Oregon. He sets forth that Gordon "illegally persuaded, enticed and abducted Mrs. Lillian Beck."

The complaint states that Beck has been damaged through being deprived of her society and affections and that she has been completely subjugated by Gordon's illegal persuasions and subjugation. He charges that Beck himself was refused by Gordon as unworthy to be the husband of such a woman and that she should arrange a divorce, and that the (Gordon) was a man of great wealth and could marry whom he pleased, but would marry no one but her. Fifteen times between July, 1912, and May, 21, 1913, when Mrs. Beck separated from her spouse, Gordon and she met, it is alleged, and as early as October 2, 1912, the first improper relations began in Oakland, when, Beck says, Gordon told the former's wife "that they were married in the sight of God."

PROPRIETIES VIOLATED. The proprieties were violated, the complaint sets forth, on January 14, February 18, twice in March, and on May 3. Gordon has all along charged that he was being made the subject of blackmail and that he was not going to submit but was going to fight the matter in the court. He says that his friends are standing by him and that he expects no difficulty in proving his innocence of the charge of alienating Mrs. Beck's affections.

Attorney Arthur Crane, counsel for Mrs. Beck, when questioned regarding the alleged assisting in transportation from Grants Pass to Sacramento, as set forth in the complaint against Gordon, said "I have no instructions from my client regarding any further charges other than those set forth in the complaint and that there is any other purpose in view than the present suit."

On being asked whether Beck claimed that Gordon had purchased the ticket for Mrs. Beck, Crane said, "He bought the Pullman ticket, yes."

SAN FRANCISCO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—By unanimous vote the senate public lands committee today decided to report favorably the bill passed by the house giving San Francisco the right to establish a water supply system in Ketchikan valley.

MAY BE MAN WANTED IN EAST

Went by Name of Anderson in City of Indianapolis

San Francisco Thinks There Has Been Some Mistake

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—Either Joseph Ellis, alias Fred Brokaw, alias W. R. Anderson, alias Fred Boley, wanted here for the murder of Joseph Schlansky, a second-hand dealer, in a room in the Oneida Hotel Monday night, has an exact double or he is not under arrest in San Francisco, as reported last night, according to the local police. The photograph of Ellis, or Brokaw, sent broadcast by the Pittsburg police department was identified positively by four persons here as the man who killed Schlansky.

The operations of Ellis were similar in all cities he visited. Here he called at the Schlansky store and told the proprietor he had some clothing at his room in the hotel which he wanted to sell. Schlansky accompanied him to the room and it is supposed resisted the attempt to rob him and was killed.

Ellis calmly left the notes and departed from the city before the alarm was given. In other cities Ellis succeeded in robbing his victims and escaped while they were locked in his room.

Andra Baker Anderson, who says that she was married to Roy Anderson, believed to be Joseph Ellis, the slayer of Schlansky, at Danville, Ill., attempted to commit suicide here today. The girl, who is 15 years old, told the police after she had shot herself July 6 and that he had deserted her a week later. The girl said that she had recognized her husband from the description of the Schlansky slayer and that photographs sent out by the Pittsburg police department were those of the man she had married. The murderer registered at a hotel here as Anderson. In her room were found letters to her mother in which the girl said she was going to kill herself because her husband had murdered a man. Inclosed were newspaper accounts of Schlansky's death. The police are investigating the assertions made by the girl. Hospital physicians said Mrs. Anderson would not recover.

PAPERS ARE FORWARDED. PITTSBURG, Sept. 24.—Requisition papers for Fred Brokaw, alias Fred Boley, alias R. White, under arrest in San Francisco and supposed to be the man wanted here for robbery and assault, were sent to Governor Tener at Harrisburg today by the police department. A city detective will start for California tomorrow morning and the papers, when signed by Governor Tener, will be forwarded to the governor of the coast state.

Ends Life While Collector Calls

When approached by a bill collector shortly after noon today George C. Wright, 50 years of age, turned away and, placing a revolver in his mouth, blew out his brains in a rooming house at 530 Thirteenth street.

Adolph Straub, the proprietor, heard the shot and summoned the police. A man who gave his name as George Strand was the collector. He refused to discuss the nature of his business with Wright.

Several days ago Wright told pawn his watch and other belongings in order to cat. He owed several days' rent.

After the shooting Wright was removed to the Emergency hospital, but he was dead on admission. It is believed that he formally lived in Alhambra, where he had a brother.

Wright went to the York house on September 3 and had been there since.

ing Bixby's visits to the resort. Evans was questioned concerning his relations with the O'Dair girl, which he admitted had been intimate.

The prosecution announced that Octavius W. Morgan, an architect of Los Angeles, would take the stand to tell of alleged attempts to blackmail him and that the defendant himself would probably close the case for the defense late this afternoon.

MUSIC BORE MURPHY'S APOWAL

"Pour Toi, Ma Cherie, Bessie," Wrote Merriam Co-respondent

Colonel Denies Words Referred to Mrs. Merriam

"An' 'twas drip, drip drip. Oh, the juice was sweet to sip. But nothing to the sweetness Of a rosy leanin' lip."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—These lines, to which the music was composed by Colonel Clarence Wainwright Murphy, dedicated to "Bessie," and sung in the household of Captain Henry C. Merriam while the officer was on frontier duty, formed the principal bit of evidence in the trial of a sensational case before Superior Judge Graham today. Colonel Murphy was visibly ill at ease when, by means of a peculiar addressness, Attorney Walter Linforth led up to the chorus above given of a song entitled "At the Grindin' of the Cane," the inscription of it as dedicated to Bessie and a few loving words on the corner of the music. The colonel would not admit that the Bessie referred to was Mrs. Merriam, but said that it was another woman.

The music was in the form and showed the words of a plantation girl clothed in sugar cane and bore in addition: "Words by Frank Stanton," and "Music by Clarence Wainwright Murphy." On the cover was written "Pour to ma cherie, C. Bessie," which being interpreted means "To thee, my beloved one."

DENIES MORE THAN FRIENDS. The colonel would not confess that the words referred to Mrs. Merriam; he would not admit that he had anything but a feeling of friendship for her and maintained that he had come here because he learned that he had been mentioned in connection with the case and that he wanted to defend her.

When Colonel Murphy took the stand he was immediately subjected to cross-examination by Linforth, who represents Captain Merriam.

BIXBY TRIES TO PROVE BLACKMAIL

Defense Again Puts Justice Evans on the Stand

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—W. H. Evans, a justice of the peace at Monrovia, Cal., called by the defense to testify concerning an alleged blackmailing plot against George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire charged with having offended against girls, was subjected to further cross-examination today. When first placed on the stand yesterday Justice Evans detailed alleged attempts of inmates of the Jonquil resort and their attorneys to obtain money from him.

Today he was asked concerning his visits to the Jonquil three or four times in two or three months. He stated he had met Emma J. Goodman, alias Josie Rosenberg, the former proprietress, who now is serving a year in the county jail, and Cleo Helen Barker, Bixby's principal accuser in the case on trial.

"But I did not go to the Jonquil to see the Rosenberg woman or the Barker girl," he said. "I went there to see Myrtle O'Dair."

The O'Dair girl was a witness for the prosecution on each of the two days she has struck down the monopoly full grown. It now seeks to destroy the source from which it sprang.

Pipe lines against which the proceedings are directed are the Standard Oil Company, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, the Ohio Oil Company, the Prairie Oil & Gas Company, the Union Oil Company and Robert D. Benson.

Mrs. Mackay to Deny Charge Ready to Answer Mrs. Blake

MRS. CLARENCE MACKAY, WHO IS NAMED IN ALIENATION SUIT BROUGHT BY MRS. C. K. BLAKE.

FIRST GUN FIRED IN PIPE-LINE SUIT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The federal government today began its fight in the United States supreme court to establish the constitutionality of the provisions of the interstate commerce act making pipe lines common carriers.

In his first brief as solicitor general of the United States, John W. Davis vigorously assails the preliminary injunction issued on the ground of unconstitutionality by the commerce court against the order of the interstate commerce commission, directing the pipe lines to file rate tariffs as common carriers.

Control of pipe lines by large interests with power to compel small producers to sell their oil or wells to pipe line owners at the latter's price is the source of a monopoly at which congress aimed to strike by opening the pipe lines to the reasonable and equitable use of all, contends to solicitor general.

"The due process" clause of the constitution is not violated, he declares, because it does not prevent congress from regulating commerce; nor does such legislation violate the constitutional prohibition against taking property for public use without compensation, because the users of the pipe lines as common carriers must pay a reasonable rate.

"It is indisputably clear," he continues, "that the evil aimed at by congress in making pipe lines common carriers was the monopoly of the oil business by the Standard Oil Company, a monopoly largely, if not chiefly, due to the ownership of control by that corporation of 90 per cent of the pipe lines."

"It is ideal to suggest," argues Davis, "that individual well owners and refiners ought to build pipe lines of their own. Every farmer might equally as well construct a railroad and every cottage have its private gas plant."

"It is largely the use of the potent instrument of transportation," he said, "that has built up these enormous concentrations. The evidence in the standard oil case proves it. Congress has struck down the monopoly full grown. It now seeks to destroy the source from which it sprang."

Pipe lines against which the proceedings are directed are the Standard Oil Company, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, the Ohio Oil Company, the Prairie Oil & Gas Company, the Union Oil Company and Robert D. Benson.

MILLION-DOLLAR ALIENATION SUIT

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—While her husband, with two children, is in the United States supreme court to establish the constitutionality of the provisions of the interstate commerce act making pipe lines common carriers, Mrs. Blake, society today is gasping with astonishment and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, served with papers in a $1,000,000 alienation suit by Mrs. Catherine Ketcham Blake, is preparing to fight the accusations against her.

Mrs. Blake is suing for the alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Dr. Joseph A. Blake, one of the best known surgeons in the United States.

The suit, it is declared, will be filed shortly, so far it having been held from the courts with an idea to avoid publicity. Attorneys for both sides have admitted that the action was started several months ago and it is known that Arthur C. Train, Mrs. Mackay's attorney, accepted service of papers.

HAS NOT SOUGHT DIVORCE. The peculiar fact in the case is that Mrs. Blake has not yet commenced action for separation from her husband, although George Gordon Battle, attorney, has intimated that this is being considered. In the meantime friends of the couple are seeking to bring them together again. The Blakes have been separated for over a year.

It is declared by friends of the couple that, following the beginning of the trouble, the Blakes reached an amicable agreement to disagree and Mrs. Blake, with her two sons, both students at Yale, took up their residence at 25 West Street, New York.

While the doctor lives at 108 East Sixty-fifth street, Mrs. Mackay, immediately after her husband's departure from Europe, made her home in Portland.

Colored Children Start School Strike

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 24.—As a protest against alleged inadequate facilities offered by the Tucson school board, every colored student is on strike today. It is charged that the school authorities failed to arrange for the proper accommodations for the negro children when the state law segregating the blacks from the whites became effective.

AMBUSHED AND SHOT TO DEATH

Interpreter Is Slain for Informing on Keepers of Resorts

James B. Nakada Pays With Life for Friendship to Police

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—James B. Nakada, an interpreter, well known in the Japanese quarter, paid with his life, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, for informing the immigration authorities of the existence of houses of ill-fame in Chinatown.

Nakada was ambushed in the lodging-house at 1074 Stockton street, where he had his office. He had entered the hallway, when he was shot twice in the back by unidentified assailants and fell lifeless to the floor, his body being in a sitting position against the wall when discovered. He was about 45 years old and married.

REVOLVER IS FOUND. He went to his office with the intention of filing up his accounts and had walked only a few feet when the shots were heard. Newton G. Cohn, a real estate man, was in the building and hurried to his side. He picked up a revolver from the floor. Two chambers had been discharged, and this is the only clue to the murderer.

Mrs. Nakada fainted when she was brought before her husband's corpse, flung herself on his body and kissed his lips. The Japanese believed that it was Nakada who told the authorities of houses of ill fame which were raided 10 days ago in this city, and all the resorts closed.

Nakada resided at Post and Laguna streets. He had been recently employed by the Japanese consulate as a translator at law, but had also worked in the local courts.

MRS. POWERS SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Woman Whose Child Was Kidnaped Takes Action

Coroner Charles L. Tisdale today revealed the appointment of Charles Quinton as deputy coroner at Centerville as the result of circumstances which have come to light concerning the alleged implication of Quinton in the domestic troubles between Attorney T. J. Powers and his wife, Margaret Powers, which were manifested yesterday afternoon when Powers "kidnaped" his 8-year-old son from the custody of the mother, who was in a Washington street restaurant.

Margaret Powers commenced suit for divorce today against her husband, charging him with cruelty. This morning she consulted Attorney Clarence Crowell in regard to her action and no delay was made in taking legal steps for separation. Plaintiff charged that her husband had treated her cruelly in many ways. She asks for custody of the child and over this it is said there will be contention.

The breach in the domestic tranquility of the Powers is said to have been smoldering for some time and has been a topic of quiet gossip among the residents of Centerville and Irvington, where the family is well known and where Mrs. Powers engaged in the undertaking business with Quinton some time ago. They had an establishment at Centerville.

asked to see some diamond rings. When Hoffman was getting a tray it is claimed that she slipped a diamond from the tray and hid it under her dress.

start divorce proceedings in that state.
At the time of her husband's sud-

Mackay country home at Harbor Hill,
Long Island, and the action is said to have taken her completely by surprise. It is believed now that Mackay had an inkling of the coming trouble and so took the children away. The

their relations were broken.
BLAKE'S TROUBLES.
It was about this time that the Blakes became estranged, and it was also noted that the Mackays, before this time said to be devoted to each other, began to take separate trips.
Arthur Train and Henry Taft, brother of the former president, who represent Mrs. Mackay, deny that suit has been filed. The serving of papers, however, is admitted. In spite of all efforts at conciliation, the situation couple have been busily discussing the strained situation and today the entire affair is open gossip.
Clarence Mackay is the son of John
W. Mackay, well known in California.
Mackay senior was one of the four bonanza kings of Nevada, who made a rich find in the Comstock district in 1875. The family still has many social connections in San Francisco.
Mrs. Mackay was married to a member of a widely known New York family. She is also well known in San Francisco society.

MACKAY'S BEQUESTS.
Clarence Mackay's bequests to the University of California have made him extremely popular in this state
and he also has done much to aid
the University of Nevada. He founded the Mackay professorship of electrical engineering at the University of California in memory of his brother. He and Orden Mills made large bequests
also in the Nevada University for mining instruction.
His father had been a prominent mining man and banker in San Francisco and after receiving his education in American and European colleges Clarence Mackay became company manager with him in the huge Mackay interests.

Fire Burns Entire Block in Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—In a spectacular fire which destroyed an entire downtown block of low buildings across the street from the Union depot at midnight, the big, iron passenger terminal of Portland was scorched and menaced for a time and about 150 houses owned by several transfer companies which had stables
in the block were turned loose into the streets. The downtown section was dotted with the frantic animals,
some going into sections far removed from the fire. The fire burned almost immediately under the new Broadway bridge, completed less than a month ago. The bridge was slightly burned and traffic over it suspended. The block burned was Sixth street to Broadway, Irving to Johnson.

New Peer Not Found On Infantry Rosier

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Examination of the roster of the Eighth United States Infantry for the last ten years fails to reveal the name of Private Arthur Reginald French, who,
through the death of his father, Baron
de Freyne, at French Park, County Roscommon, Ireland, succeeds to the English peerage. The new peer, after serving for several years as an officer in the Royal Fusiliers, is said to have resigned to become a private in the United States army. It was said at the war department that he probably enlisted under an assumed name, as many actions of nobility do. Besides an ancient title he inherits 30,000 fertile acres in County Roscommon.
The Eighth Infantry now is in the Philippines.

The cutter will search for the Wasp

little consonant to private morality as to public justice."
Governor Sulzer was busier getting money than getting votes during his campaign for election, declared Eugene Lamb Richards of counsel for the prosecution. In his address opening the case against the impeached executive.
"All technicalities and quibbles raised by the respondent, have been swept away by this court," began Richards "and he must now meet and misdemeanors! High is the offense of and position of William Sulzer, but low is the level of the crimes and misdemeanors which we shall prove against him. His chief offenses are plain fraud, larceny and perjury." After outlining the provisions of the election laws relating to the reporting of campaign contributions, the attorney continued:
OBTAINED LARGE SUMS.
What did William Sulzer do? He was nominated on October 2, 1912, and almost immediately he began to solicit and obtain large sums of money for campaign purposes. He went at his campaign for money with system, cool deliberation and cunning schemes
to conceal what he got.
"Five days after he was nominated
he made a public announcement that he would have no campaign collectors or financial managers, and yet at that moment his private secretary was already running a secret campaign account and he himself had collectors working for him, scouring the city and state for checks and cash.
He preferred, first, currency, which has no earmarks; next, checks to the order of someone other than himself,
and if this was impossible he was willing to take checks to his order.
He had more than one 'baggage man,'
which, I believe, is a favored expression of his. He had a bag himself, which was as open to a $10,000 contribution as to a $2 one.

MENTIONS DEPOSITS.
"During the period from October to November, 1912, into and out of the campaign bank account of his secretary, Louis Sarecky, went practically $12,000, about $1000 more than the defendant reported in the post-election statement. Into Sulzer's Farmers Loan and Trust Company account went $15,000 more. To Harris & Fuller, stockbrokers, there went $10,000; to Bayer, Griswold & Company, $12,000, and to Fuller and Gray, $17,000. Of these amounts over $40,000 was in currency."
The prosecuting attorney then took up the governor's statement of campaign expenses, which recorded the receipt of only $5460.
"He reports 83 contributors," Richards continued, "and while they are undoubtedly estimable men, there is not to be found among them any man
of prominence in the financial world,
of a single contributor whose name
could carry meaning to such electors
as might examine the statement."

NAMES NOT MENTIONED.
"There is no report of any contributions from such financial magnates
as Jacob H. Schiff or E. C. Benedict, nor from Myers, the bankers, nor from Morgenthau, nor McCombs, nor from wealthy men identified with the brewing and liquor interests, whose contributions had been received by the respondent.
"We shall show that the respondent continued to speculate in stocks
after he had become governor and that while so interested he caused to be introduced in the legislature and advocated the adoption of legislation virtually affecting the rise and fall of securities on said exchange." Jacob H. Schiff, testifying for the prosecution, said he had no objection to the governor appointing him his $2500 contribution to his personal use if the executive so desired.

Gaynor Estate Is Valued at $2,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The will of William J. Gaynor, late mayor of New York, filed today, leaves the widow his Brooklyn residence and 500 shares of Royal Baking Powder company stock. The remainder, with the exception of minor bequests, of the estate, is divided two-sevenths to each of two sons and one-seventh to each of three unmarried daughters.
The value of the estate is estimated at $2,000,000.

Railroad Commission Cuts Pullman Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The state railroad commission this morning ordered a substantial reduction in the Pullman rates between Los Angeles and San Diego. The new rate, which will go into effect November 1, 1913, reduces the charge for a lower berth from $2 to $1.50, and the cost of an upper berth will be similarly lessened.

Foreigners who made their declaration of intention to become citizens seven or more years ago, and who have not applied for their final papers,
will have to do so before Sept. 30,
after which date such papers will be considered void and the applicant will have to take out new papers and wait two years. The county clerk has been advised of the matter, which comes under a new law.

Kligman and Edwin Forrest.

DEDICATED SONG TO MRS. MERRIAM

Murphy Denies "Ma Cherie Bessie" Was Intended for Defendant.

repeated the first names of his four sisters and his mother. None of them was called Bessie, but up to this moment the attorney's purpose was not apparent.
"Have you any affection for Mrs. Merriam?" suddenly fired counsel, suddenly changing the subject.
"What do you mean?"
"Well, do you care for her; do you love her?"
"I have no affection of the heart for Mrs. Merriam. I like

"Did you advance money for her with which to fight this case?"
"No, sir."
WAS FREQUENT CALLER.
The witness stated that in 1911,
while Captain Merriam was on the border, he had been a frequent caller at the house, had telephoned about twice a week, had taken Mrs. Merriam on auto rides two or three times
a week, had dined with her a couple of times, had been entertained at the Merriam home.
"By the way, colonel," continued
the attorney, "What is your business
in New Orleans?"
"I was a passenger agent," affirmed Colonel Murphy.
"Did you ever write music?"
"Yes, for a while."
"Did you ever play or sing any of it at the Merriam home?"
"Yes, I think so."
"Did you compose the music, 'At the Grindin' of the Cane'?"
"Yes."

Here the witness trembled visibly. Then the words written in French were read to him.
"What does that mean, Colonel?"
he was asked.
"To my dear."
"Doesn't it mean sweetheart?"
"No; it means dear."
"But it also may mean my beloved.
My sweetheart, my dearest, may it not?"
"No, it means dear."
"What does the initial 'C.' stand for, Colonel?"
"Clarence, my name."
"And the Bessie stood for Mrs.
Merriam, did it not?"
"No, sir."
"Who was meant by Bessie?"
"Another woman, not Mrs. Merriam."

Further than this Colonel Murphy would not say. He didn't tell who the mysterious Bessie was. He spoke throughout with a slightly southern accent, and in response to a question evidently prompted by his manner
said that his home was now in Paris.
This constituted the principal portion of his testimony, after which Mrs. A.
Ray, Mrs. Merriam's mother, was called. She testified that she heard no particular commotion on the night
when her daughter attempted suicide with a revolver. She, of course, knew nothing of the cruelly intimate details revealed by Mrs. Merriam on the stand as having caused the attempt to take her own life, and they were not referred to.

CORONER REVOKES AN APPOINTMENT

Aftermath of 'Kidnaping' of Son by T. J. Powers

which Mrs. Powers purchased from John Santos with money she obtained from her husband.
Quinton was a boarder in the Powers home. Last Monday, according to reports, Attorney Powers returned home and accused his boarder with having broken up his family. The result was a wordy quarrel, it is said, after which Mrs. Powers and Quinton left together for San Francisco, to where they stopped at the Arlington hotel. Later they came to Oakland and stopped at the Crellin hotel. It was while Mrs. Powers was at lunch with her son yesterday afternoon that her husband drove up to the restaurant in an automobile and carried the boy away with him, leaving the mother screaming for help on the sidewalk.

Some time ago Attorney Powers
sold ranch property for $26,000 and his wife is said to have refused to sign the deed until he paid her one-half of the amount in cash. With the money obtained Mrs. Powers went into the undertaking business, taking Quinton in as a partner. He was also deputy coroner. It is understood that Powers is attempting to recover the money invested in the business since the breaking up of his home. Neither of the couple have sued for a divorce,
but it is expected that such action will be the final disposition of the trouble between them.

IS JUSTICE OF PEACE.

Attorney Powers was for eight years justice of the peace at Irvington. Two years ago he ran for the senate against Senator Strickland.
At the present time he represents Mrs. Mary De Valle, the woman who shot her husband at Mowrey's Landing last June while he lay asleep in bed. Mrs. De Valle has pleaded not guilty and her case will be tried next month.

GRAIN MERCHANTS ON THE CURRENCY BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The administration committee on the currency bill, was discussed before the Senate banking committee today by a delegation of merchants from the northwest, who opposed the provisions of the bill, as they expect them to affect the country banks. F. E. Kennecott, a manufacturer of farm machinery, suggested that the committee,
before passing on the bill, visit the farming and business communities of the West.

LAUNDRY LENDS HOMELIKE AIR TO CITY HALL TOWER

"Is the city airing its linen, or has it started a municipal laundry?"
This was the question which agitated pedestrians on Oakland's business streets yesterday when, high on the city hall tower, they saw a well laden wash-line, with its burden flapping in the breeze. Conjectures were rife. It looked like washing, it flapped like washing, and, as a matter of fact, it was washing.
Reports went the rounds of downtown offices, and windows were crowded. Telephone messages to the city hall asked an explanation.
Commissioner Anderson was appealed to. He didn't know what it was,
but started an investigation.
Hastening down stairs he encountered Police Sergeant William Woods. "Woods," he asked, "What's the snow white set of banners?"
"Banners nothin'," announced Woods. "It's the house-gow wash."
It was wash day at the city prison and the wash was hung to dry on the parapet. It was ordered removed from sight.

AUTOMOBILE BACKS OFF RIDGE; FATALITIES

FAIRMONT, Minn., Sept. 24.—
Charles G. Storm of Preston, Iowa, was instantly killed and Miss Lena Wearn, Boone, Iowa; Mrs. Lena Hanson, Sherburn, Miss., and C. E. Claude, the driver, were seriously injured late yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding was backed off a high ridge in the road near Fox
Lake, a few miles from this place.
The party were on their way to the lake to fish when a pole was dropped from the car. In attempting to back up the car to recover it the wheels ran too near the edge of the road and tumbled over the car rolling down
a 10-foot embankment.

PRESTON ESCAPE IS CAPTURED AFTER CHASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Harry Walker, an escaped prisoner from the Preston Reform School, discovered by a Chinese cook in the residence of O. E.
Bradley, 3417 Twenty-fourth street, was captured by Patrolman Lynch late last night. Walker, with a companion, had broken in, but had had no opportunity to steal anything when observed by the Chinese. They jumped from windows, were pursued and Walker was overtaken.
He was removed to Preston today. The identity of his companion is known.

FATHER CAN PROVE ALIBI.

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 24.—H. A.
Brokaw, father of Fred Brokaw, told
the police today that an absolute alibi could be offered in defense of the young Tacoma man whose name is strangely entangled with a murder in Indianapolis and a robbery in Pittsburg. Brokaw said Fred was in Tacoma September 1 and left shortly after for San Francisco, writing from Portland and San Francisco in a man-

spoken to regarding the dispatches
from Indianapolis and Pittsburgh regarding Fred Brokaw, captured here by Detectives Dinan and O'Dea on description and said to be the son of a wealthy resident of Seattle, declared that there was never any suspicion
of murder against the prisoner.
"We have no advices that Brokaw is wanted in Indianapolis for murder or that he has a double. We are holding him on suspicion in connection with certain robberies in Pittsburg and we received word that they are sending for him."

ALCOHOLISM CONGRESS DISCUSSES GRAPE USES

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 24.—The international congress on alcoholism engaged in a lengthy discussion today on the best means of utilizing grapes and other materials from which non-alcoholic liquors or foodstuffs are produced.

CONWAY, S. C., Sept. 24.—If "Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater," had run across an enormous pumpkin vine growing on the property of Dr. R. G. Sloan on Little River, in this county, he could have kept 500 wives. The vine, which is of voluntary growth, is believed to be the largest in the world. It covers more than one- eighth of an acre and has produced about 500 pumpkins, the largest of which weighs nearly 100 pounds.

WOMAN VICTIM OF MONEY LENDER

Appeals to Authorities for Aid;
No Redress Is Possible.

Does Not Cover the Case, Says District Attorney;
Cannot Act.

Attended with foreclosure of a mortgage on her household furniture after

est on a loan of $25 during three years time, Mrs. S. Manuel, a widow living at 814 Thirteenth street today complained to the district attorney, who after an investigation found that the woman had no legal redress. She was forced to leave, facing the predicament of losing all of her belongings with the alternative of repaying
the principal with interest at 8 per cent.

Deputy District Attorney W. B. Smith,

under the law there was no method by which the authorities could bring about an adjustment of the matter, as the agreement between the parties had been made separate from the mortgage and that the mortgage would be able to foreclose by the terms of the transaction
even though he had not collected $11
more than the loan in the short period of three years.

FORCED TO BORROW.

Forced through dire necessity to negotiate a loan, Mrs. Manuel obtained the money from R. B. Vincent, a money lender with offices at 217 Bacon building.
From her limited income, augmented by the wages earned by her 17-year-old daughter, who works in a department store, she was able to keep up the regular monthly interest payments of $12.50. This, continued, she explained, for two years.
At the end of that time Mrs. Manuel appealed to Vincent, she said, and he consented to reduce the interest to 8 per cent.

For another year she continued the payments and at last when demand was made for the principal she demurred,
having calculated that she had repaid
the original loan with more than half the amount additional in interest. Then she sought advice from the authorities.

PITIFUL CASE.

"It is a pitiful case," said Deputy District Attorney Smith today. "It is only one of many such complaints that come to us, but there seems to be no way in which these loan sharks can be brought to task, as their operations are carried out within the provisions of the law as far as it covers the cases."

NOTHING TO DO BUT LIGHT FIRES

But There Will Be Some Feast
When Luscious Meat
Sizzles.

All preparations for the grand Spanish barbecue and picnic to be given under the auspices of the Fruitvale lodge, No.
1152, Local Order of Moose, in Lorenzo grove, San Lorenzo, on Sunday, September 28, have been completed and everything is in readiness save for the lighting of the fires in the big trenches where the meat will be roasted. All the details as far as possible, which will make the barbecue an exact reproduction of those famous in the history of early days in California, have been attended to and in the big pavilion "El Son," the bandage and "contradanza" will be danced as they were before the days of Sloat and Fremont and when Pio Pico was governor of the Californians.

REVIVE MEMORIES

been revived in San Leandro for many a fiesta and barbecue was held there when that was the county seat of Ala-ameda county and the residents of San Leandro have aided greatly in making the affair a success. One of the early Spanish customs which will be seen again
at the Moose barbecue will be the throwing of "cascabeles," or eggshells filled with cologne and other scents, flour and tinsel.

Indications point to the hope of the attendance of 10,000 persons being fulfilled. The Moose of Richmond will send a solid delegation with many of their friends, a large number of Berkeley residents will gather at the barbecue and the drill team of Alameda lodge in full uniform, and many hundreds will attend
from San Francisco. Other bay points will send varying numbers to join in the festivities. The Alameda drill team, one of the crack teams of the drill in the state, will give several fancy drills during the afternoon.

SPECIAL TRANSPORTATION.

The transportation committee, of which Harry L. Boyle is chairman, has arranged for sufficient cars to care for the crowds on the day of the barbecue and in addition to the augmented street car service, two motor buses will be run from East Fourteenth street direct to the grove. D. M. Jones, secretary of the Fruitvale lodge of Moose and chairman of the booster committee, has done a great deal of work in order to insure the affair
being a success.

OF NEW YORK IS READ

per states that the will of the late Mayor

William F. Gaynor, which was read privately to the family yesterday afternoon,

home of the family. Each of the married daughters, Mrs. Harry Vinzant and

Mrs. W. Seward Webb, is given a remembrance of $1000. Rufus Gaynor inherits

two-sevenths of the estate. Whether the mayor made provision for his wife in her lifetime has not been learned.

High Plumes, Low Plumes "Peavine" Take Their Place

Here's the Tonkinese Hat,
Dame Fashion's
Latest Effort
to Be a

We have had the high plumes, the low plumes, French and others, and now we have the very latest in hats—the "Peavine" hat. "Peavine" is the common, or slang name for this species. Its official or technical appellation is "Chapeau Tonkinese."

The Tonkinese hat, or, as flippant men have christened it the "peavine," is some

hat. A small peaked crown, nearly resembling a roof, supports an upright

burst of feathers, like a tree stalk.

These branch out near the top. Hence,

"peavine." It takes a man to invent a name for his wife's new hat. He also invests new words to discuss the bills

for morsels and hats, but that has nothing to do with the Chapeau Tonkinese, unless hubby is about to pay for one.

The crown of the hat starts from the edge of the brim, and is pleated on one side. It is made of seal brown velvet, trimmed with the "peavine." It originated in Paris and is extensively worn.

H's Fight to Wilson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Senator Pome-

rene of Ohio today carried to President

Wilson his fight for the senate amendment to the tariff bill, imposing an equal internal revenue duty on spirits used in the manufacture of sweet wines.

"I merely put the president in possession of the facts," said the senator as he left the executive offices. He added that the president had not committed himself on the subject. The California wine men are agitating the issue.

significance of Debating."

PLAN ROOF GYMNASIUM

FOR HOTEL OAKLAND

A gymnasium on the roof of the Hotel

Oakland is the latest feature to be planned, following a sudden physical culture craze which has seized the guests of the hotel. It began yesterday, when

Clerk French received a number of early calls. Victor Reiter was the first, asking to be awakened at 5:30 this morning.

Henry Anderson later then put in the same request and later Miss Emma Matthews also put in a call.

French was curious and asked the reason of the unusual early rising.

"I intend to row around Lake Merritt

three times before breakfast," said Reiter.

Later declared that he planned to play tennis. Miss Mathews was to play golf.

"There seems to be quite a demand for exercise here," said Reiter. "Suppose

we start a gymnasium on the roof?"

"Fine," chorused the guests. Reiter sent for gymnasium apparatus catalogues

at once.

Oakland grill room. Elaborate plans are being made for the breakfast, which will be held in the hotel.

Invitations will be issued this week. Officers of the Oakland council are averaging the details of the affair.

WILL GIVE LECTURE

CARRIES INFIRM MOTHER TO SAFETY

Archetti De Nattei Falls Unconscious After Brave Effort

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Bearing in her arms the form of her aged mother, who could not make her way to safety, Archetti De Nattei, a pretty 18-year-old Italian girl, proved herself a heroine at a spectacular fire in the Richmond district this morning.

The fire broke out shortly before 9 o'clock in a bowling alley in the rear of the Geary school of Al. Flinn, at Geary and Wood streets, and caught the De Nattei home. Smoke rolled into the kitchen where Mrs. G. B. De Nattei, the mother, was sitting. Before firemen could rush in they saw Archetti carrying her parent, coming down the steps. She was choking from smoke fumes and fell over unconscious as she reached the sidewalk. Her mother was also overcome, but both were quickly revived.

DOG OWNERS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Order May Be Given to Kill the Animals That Are Not Muzzled.

Owners of dogs who fail to muzzle the animals are to be arrested for violating the city ordinance, according to Commissioner Turner. "The city pound is overloaded with dogs," said Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Turner this morning. "The bacteriological office is overloaded with dogs' heads which have been proved to be infected with rabies. There have been 23 such positive cases this month already."

"The public is not co-operating and there are new cases of people being bitten every day coming into this office. The poundman has only one wagon, and this is being worked overtime. We have taken in over 30 dogs which had licenses but which were unmuzzled."

"There is nothing that I can think of to do under the circumstances but to have a man arrested on every police beat in the city after he has been demonstrated that he owns a dog and fails to muzzle it. I shall instruct Chief Petersen today to have his men gather evidence of failure to comply with this law and who will fill the courts up as well as the pound and the bacteriological laboratory."

"If that doesn't work, we'll obtain authority to shoot all unmuzzled dogs in the streets."

The matter was taken up before the city council this morning by Attorney H. A. Luttrell. Luttrell declared that he was attacked by a dog last night and narrowly escaped being

EXPLAINS DETAILS OF NEW TAX RATE

Annexed District Now Pays on Bonds; Last Vote Cause.

When the East Oakland section was annexed in 1909, the assurance was given that the residents of that section would not be taxed to pay interest and redemption on the municipal bonds for waterfront and city hall, which had already been voted. When the recent bond issue was passed, it was anticipated by the people of the annexed district that they would have their tax increased in the same ratio as that in the old city. But it was discovered that the tax in the annex increased four cents over that in the old city.

The explanation of this is that when the bonds for waterfront and city hall were voted the old city taxpayers were charged only with the increase in the rate of interest which the new bonds would bear, while the people in the annexed district were forced, in voting on the bond issue, to assume responsibility for bonds on which they had never paid any taxes before. The so-called McElroy bonds were borne by the old city alone, but when they were voted at a higher rate of interest they became in actuality a new bond issue, and the old city and annexed district were assessed equally for them. The difference was naturally greater in the annexed district because the taxpayers there had not previously paid on the McElroy bonds.

COFFMAN BACK IN ALBANY CHURCH

Minister Opposed by Club Is Returned by Methodist Conference.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—News from Pacific Grove to the effect that Rev. Wilmer E. Coffman has been returned as pastor of the Marin Avenue church by the Methodist conference, which closed its session there last evening has been received with much interest. Opposition to Rev. Coffman in the improvement club of this city caused a recent schism there and a formal plan to seek the pastor's removal.

Rev. Coffman, during a carnival recently held in this city, criticized the management thereof for offering wines and liquors as trophies for winners of various awards. He was hotly scored by a number of his officers, and a committee of animadversions to find their way into the newspapers.

A month ago the Albany Improvement Club considered the situation of the pastor and decided to send a committee to the conference to request his removal from the local pastorate. There was a division of sentiment in the club and several of its officers resigned with a number of its members. These and others formed a new organization, called the Albany Civic League.

Rev. S. D. Hutsiniller, superintendent in charge of the Oakland district, investigated the local situation at the last quarterly meeting of the Albany church three weeks ago. The matter was considered in conference at Pacific Grove and it was decided to return Rev. Coffman to this city.

FEARING DEPORTATION, WITHDRAWS PLEA

Hjalmar Stensar, who held up and robbed two blind men at Fourteenth and West streets and then pleaded guilty to robbery, asked the Superior Court today for permission to withdraw his plea when he found out that he was in danger of being deported from the country. The defendant has not been here a year. He now desires to stand trial on the charge.

Ben Tillman Cried Chicken Gets It From Far and Wide

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—There is danger of a strike in the office of Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina. It is all because of the fact that the office staff and other employees about the office are getting too much to eat. The food of edibles is the result of this complaint recently made by Senator Tillman.

"Why can't I get any good chicken in Washington? The stringy skeletons of ancient fowls now served to me are an abomination. I crave some good fried chicken, but there is not a hotel or restaurant in Washington where I can get any to my taste."

Since his last attack of illness Senator Tillman has been ordered by the doctor to stick to one meal a day, with chicken or other white meat and fish to complete the principal dishes. In trying to follow his physician's advice Senator Tillman could find no chicken to suit his taste in the city's markets or in the hotels or restaurants, hence his loudly voiced complaint.

PETERS, SQUIRE OF DAMES. A woman approached Representative Peters of Massachusetts, a staunch democrat, in the corridors of the house. She was a constituent of Representative Kent of California. Could Mr. Peters help her find him?

Certainly Mr. Peters would—but he didn't. He dived into the Democratic caucus, viewed the assemblage from a point of vantage, searched through the cloak rooms and finally went back to the waiting woman to report failure.

She thought from California, and probably a suffragist, was unacquainted with the fact that Mr. Peters had sought Mr. Kent, a rabid Progressive, in a Democratic caucus.

If she had been more familiar with the internal workings of the capitol she might have told the Massachusetts man something about parties political.

WALKING LOOKS GOOD. Carl Browne recently arrived in Washington from California. One of the first things he did was to tell his return ticket. He then declared to the waiting public that he would either fly back to his home or walk back. He is now working hard in Congressman Kent's back yard to save a long walk.

He calls his flying machine an octopus. It is different from anything on the market. While still working with a model, walking appears to Mr. Browne as being good, but he is determined to make a full sized machine in an endeavor to save sole leather.

U. S. OFFICERS TO PAY OWN BAGGAGE IN FUTURE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A sad blow to the traveling expense accounts of American military officers was delivered today by George E. Downey, comptroller of the treasury, who decided that army officers when traveling without troops must pay for the transportation of their personal baggage out of their 7 cents mileage allowed by the government. The decision, applicable alike to army, navy, marine corps and revenue cutter service, abolishes a long enjoyed privilege. The only baggage the government will pay for in future will be tents, clothing, utensils and other necessary military accoutrement.

Salts and Mercury Foes to Mankind

Intestinal Troubles Caused by Salts. Our Bodies Not Meant to Digest Rocks and Minerals.

Rocks and Minerals Rob Us of Health. Beware of Them.

Powdered rock and liquid minerals are playing havoc with a multitude of people. The astonishing record of cures of severe cases of poisoned blood by the botanical ingredients that compose the famous blood purifier S. S. S. proves conclusively that our bodies are not made to assimilate stone and metal. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier ever discovered. Not one drop of salts, mercury, or any other drug is used in its preparation. And yet it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for the drastic drugs so often employed in treating the effects of poisoned blood. Salts irritate the delicate lining of the intestine and bowels; they absorb their natural moisture, leaving the system parched and dried. Mineral drugs damage the bones and joints, upset the digestion, and when you realize that stones and metals used in drugs do not enter into any of the nutritive processes of the body they are poisons and must be cast out. But this is not true of S. S. S., as the ingredients in this famous medicine are selected just as essential to a well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats, and sugars of our daily food.

GREEK CONSUL DOESN'T WANT HIS DOGS NABBED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Richard de Fontana, consul for Greece, has complained to the supervisors that his consular privileges have been scoffed at by the public pound authorities. He asks for the return of $5 which he was compelled to pay to secure the release of his two pet dogs that were bagged last Friday by an emissary of the pound.

He resides at 1058 Pine street. He says that he had the dogs in leash when out for an air and that when he loosed them so that they might run into the house the poundmen nabbed them. He claims that foreign consuls are not subject to fines or pound fees.

McREYNOLDS FAVORS THE COMMERCE COURT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Attorney

recommended the Senate appropriate committee that instead of abolishing the commerce court, as contemplated by a bill which has passed the House, the court be strengthened by broadening its powers, to take appeals from the Philippines and Porto Rico, which now go direct to the supreme court. The attorney general said that his recommendations represented his personal views.

NAVAL WIRELESS CLASS MAKES RAPID PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The rapid progress being made by the advance class in signaling and wireless at the naval training station, Newport, R. I., is the object of a special report to Secretary Daniels from Captain Roger Welles, commandant of the station.

"We have now about twenty boys," he says, "and we expect to work it up to about thirty in this class, so that we can send about eight to the flagship for distribution among the fleet each month. I am much pleased with the progress they are making and was surprised to learn that they can send and receive from fifteen to twenty words a minute. We have the Constellation rigged up and our signaling is all done on board her, or on the spot nearby. The apparatus for wireless instruction has been most valuable and is being extended and improved."

A GOOD INVESTMENT. W. L. Mach, a well known merchant of Whitewater, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the rest of his entire stock of these medicines. As Making Over the Law.

Example of a judge altering the law to fit his personal or prejudices, is reported from Kansas. A dis-

Big Tim and the Bowery

Big Tim Sullivan, whose tragic death plunged the Bowery in the deepest mourning, was born and bred in the Bowery. He represented the district in which he had sold newspapers as a barefooted boy in the Senate of his State and in Congress, and his death caused a grief so sincere as to provoke thousands who never saw the man to inquire why he had so endeared himself to rich and poor in his district. Big Tim never drank or smoked, and was not a good fellow in the commonly accepted sense of the term, but his hand was always outstretched to help the man in distress. He was known as the friend of the down and outer, the fellow without home, friends or money. He had worked his way up from the lees of humanity, and the kindness of a heart naturally warm and generous went out to those who had been beaten in life's struggle. He was a Tammany boss, but his word was as good as his bond and the call for help never found him deaf.
The poor and wretched, criminal even, found in him a sympathizer and helper. He was not a high type of statesman, but he was a splendid type of native manhood. Abstemious himself, he did not judge harshly others who yielded to their appetites.
He did not pretend to be better than his fellows; he never forsook a friend who fell into poverty or evil ways, and he never forgot a kindness or a favor. He never turned his back on friend or foe, and to be a resident of the Bowery was a claim which he never ignored. People of all races loved him because he was so human, so big, friendly and helpful, so ready with a stout fist to resent an insult and an open purse to aid the distressed.
He was the king of the Bowery. Men voted the Tammany ticket because Big Tim said it was all right; Big Tim was the visible exponent of a political system which they judged by what his personal conduct exemplified. He got them jobs, had them released when arrested for petty offenses, paid their rent when threatened with eviction, sent coal to poor families when the weather was bitter cold and ice to the sick too poor to buy it. In short, he kept track of his people, and played Providence in a fashion that neither humiliated nor shamed those he helped.
Men would tell him the truth when they would tell it to nobody else; they were faithful to him when they were faithless to all others. In the Bowery no one would dare to harm a friend of Big Tim's.
Big Tim belonged to the Bowery and the Bowery belonged to him. He was the best product it ever knew, and it loved him because he never forsook it or forgot to be a friend of its denizens. It may be said that his kindness, generosity and helpfulness sprang from policy. How few will take the trouble to pursue a policy which means so much to the poor and ignorant!
How many give attention to the miseries of tenement folk! Big Tim would cross the street to shake hands with the Italian chimney sweep or the Yiddish peddler and ask after his family. To him were carried the woes of the district. He was the embodiment of a government they knew and understood. Therefore they worshiped Big Tim and voted his ticket, and when he died mourned him with one voice. There must be something noble in a man capable of winning such love and grief.
In nearly every city in the country building operations for August, 1913, showed a marked decline as compared to August of last year, but Oakland showed an increase of 100 per cent.
This city stood out alone as the one city in the country where building activity increased this year instead of falling off. This year's total will exceed the total for last year. Real estate values here have shown a firmness that challenges comparison. That is because they have never been on a speculative basis. Having never been inflated, there was little room for shrinkage even when money grew tight and interest rates advanced. No city in the country is on a healthier basis than Oakland, and no city is improving at a more rapid rate.

RICHARDSON WAS A FEMINIST

There have been a number of discussions of when the feminist movement began. Great men and women from time to time have spoken in as intelligent a way against the hampering traditions concerning women as anybody could speak today, but the first person we think of who has written extensively and repeatedly what would be called distinctively feminist literature in the contemporary sense is Richardson.
Listen to this from "Clarissa Harlowe":
I think there is not one man in a hundred whom a woman of sense and spirit can either honor or obey, though you make us promise both, in that solemn form of words which unites,
or rather binds us to you in marriage.
Well do your sex
contrive to bring us up fools and idiots, in order to make us bear the yoke you lay upon our shoulders, and that we may not despise you from our hearts (as we certainly should, if we knew how to do so) you stay for your us do (as it is) for your insolence.
And here is another quotation from the same book:
To be given up to a strange man;
to be engrafted into a strange family; to give up her very name, as a mark of her becoming his absolute and dependent property; to be obliged to prefer this strange man to father, mother, to everybody, and his humors
to all her own; or to contend perhaps in breach of avowed duty for every innocent instance of freedom—surely, sir, a young creature ought not to be obliged to make all these sacrifices,
but for such a man as she can love.
If she be, how sad must be the case,
how miserable the life, if it be called life!
Probably the predatory male has been handled with more influence on public opinion in this novel than in any other book ever written. In "Fanny Hill," Richardson drew in his first heroine a girl of much the same class as the heroine of "Clarissa," so much commented on a while ago. In treating the relations between parents and children, he shows that same determined humanity of point of view as is characteristic of his almost contemporaneous attack on renial bullying. All through his works
you find notes characteristic of the feminist movement today merely because you find a great instinct for just ethics—

Tennessee Lower House in Fear Something Would Happen; It Didn't.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24.—The lower house of the Tennessee legislature was thrown into turmoil yesterday when Speaker Stanton declared friends of Governor Hooper had sent two suitcases filled with revolvers to the office of the superintendent of the capitol and that gunmen were present in the house, the purpose being, he asserted, to intimidate him. Several inflammatory speeches followed, but the house voted down a motion providing for an investigation.

Representative McFarland, first removing his coat, to show he was unarmed, denounced the man who rams down weapons in his pocket as a coward. Representative Stone, who threw back his coat to display his vacant hip pockets, similarly characterized "any man who would call a set of armed men to guard the door of the legislative hall."

Stanton, a young man elected from Memphis as a regular Democrat, was chosen as speaker by the votes of the Republican and independent members of the house, termed "fusionists" lately. He is alleged to have favored the regular Democrats. Feeling has been brought to a high tension by the so-called law enforcement bills, designed to make effective the state-wide prohibition law. Governor Hooper and the fusionists are supporting these measures, which are expected to come up in the house tomorrow.

The senate today passed a bill providing for direct election of United States senators. It now goes to the governor.

LOWER RATES ON OREGON LUMBER

Reduction to Points in California Contemplated by S. P.
Officials.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—In an effort to encourage some of the lumber mills in the Willamette valley of Oregon freight traffic officials of the Southern Pacific are contemplating reductions of the rate on lumber from points of origin to points in California north of San Francisco bay.

It is understood that mill owners in Portland will file objection before the interstate commerce commission on the grounds that the rate will be discriminatory.

Justification for the proposed change is found, say the Southern Pacific officials, in the decision of the interstate commerce commission in a case on box shooks going to California in which case a lower rate was granted to valley points than to Portland mills.

COLLEGE OF PACIFIC
HEAD SELLS HIS HOME

SAN JOSE, Sept. 24.—Dr. William W. Guth, president of the College of the Pacific, has sold his beautiful new home in College Park to the trustees of the College of the Pacific. The sale price is not announced, but the deed has been officially recorded in the office of County Recorder Dan J. Flannery.

Trustees of the college have just filed an application to change the name from University of the Pacific to College of the Pacific. Although the name has been popularly changed for nearly two years and the trustees changed the name at that time, the change did not become a matter of record until yesterday.

Oakland Aids San Jose Girl
Will Help Her Win Prize

MISS LIZETTE KRAUSE, WHOSE CANDIDACY IN PORTOLA CONTEST IS BEING BOOSTED BY PROMINENT OFFICIALS.

Oakland, through the meeting held yesterday in Mayor Mori's office, has started an active campaign in the Portola Girls' Trip Contest, this city having started a movement to aid Miss Lizette Krause, the San Jose contestant. A delegation of San Jose boosters, headed by Mayor Thomas Monahan, started the movement here, arriving to confer with the city officials, and urging that in return for San Jose's aid during the annexation fight, their contestant be aided now. As the result of a rousing meeting a committee of local officials and business men was named and an active campaign started.

Miss Krause, now Oakland's contestant, and for whom a state-wide campaign is being waged, is the only contestant not a San Francisco girl. Competitors in Los Angeles, Fresno and in the north are working hard for her success.

As a result of the meeting and addresses made by John F. Mullins, Walter J. Petersen, John Forrest, Henry Hoff, A. A. Denison, Wilbur Walker, Mayor Monahan of San Jose, former Mayor Koch of San Jose and Portola Commissioner Jay McCabe, Oakland pledged its support and a committee consisting of John F. Mullins, chairman; Joseph E. Cairns, secretary; Wilbur Walker, treasurer; Dr. Henry Travers, A. A. Denison, Joseph Burrows, A. A. Hearsh, D. A. Perkins, Timothy Doran, C. F. Burke, George E. Gross, Frank Barnett, E. Heinrichs, John Forest, W. J. Petersen and W. J. Baccus, was appointed to help on the active work.

BOY HUSBAND ACCUSED
BY YOUTHFUL BRIDE

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 24.—To be arrested in San Francisco yesterday on a warrant issued at the instance of his wife, Freda, by Judge W. F. Magee, who married the pair in San Rafael on March 8, was the fate of William Leslie, who is 19 years of age and whose address is given as 3105 Geary street, San Francisco. Mrs. Leslie, who has been living apart from her husband at 1650 Ellis street, San Francisco, charges the latter with perjury, since, she alleges, he gave his age as 21 at their wedding, when, as a matter of fact, he was only 19. Leslie, it is stated, swore at the office of the San Rafael County Clerk that he was an adult.

Since the marriage the death of relatives in the East has brought a considerable sum of money to Leslie on the attainment of his majority. On this ground, it is stated, he sought annulment of his marriage, claiming that he was a minor at the time, and, therefore, ineligible for marriage except by consent of his guardian, in this case his brother, Frederick, who is a San Francisco business man.

Mrs. Leslie replied to the move for annulment of marriage by having a perjury.

Leslie was released on a $2500 bond.

NEW ZIEGLER HEIR.

New York, Sept. 24.—A new and important heiress has arrived in the person of Miss Elizabeth Virginia Ziegler, born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. William Ziegler, adopted son and daughter-in-law of the late multi-millionaire who left a great fortune gained through his control of the baking powder industry.

of the candidates was made. Jewel prizes to winners of the subsidiary race were presented.

Elizabeth Gleason, proposed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, whose campaign is being managed by Charles L. Barrett, assistant secretary of the Gas company, was found to be far out in front of her fellow candidates at the conclusion of last night's count. Miss Gleason, who is a daughter of Captain of Police Henry Gleason, was presented with a valuable solitaire diamond ring as a result of her being in the lead at the half-mile post of the contest. She received the award from Phil Sherman, a member of the Portola executive committee.

The second prize, a solid gold bracelet watch, went to Lulu Bettannier, the St. Francis Hotel entrant, who was accorded most cordial applause as she received the second prize. Mrs. Sheridan of the Southern Pacific company was a close third.

The result of the vote accorded those who declared their intentions of running as candidates in the subsidiary contest was as follows:

GATES BILL TO BE INVESTIGATED

Improvement Clubs to Debate Measure and Decide on General Application.

A special session of the legislature to discuss the Gates bill under which it is urged by improvement clubs the proposed municipal traction district should be formed, is advocated in a resolution passed by the United Improvement Clubs east of Lake Merritt, for submission to the civic association.

GATES RESOLUTIONS.

The resolution is as follows: "Whereas, The Alameda County Civic Association, representing numerous improvement clubs and kindred organizations, favors the acquisition of public utilities under the Assembly bill 1267 (Gates law), and,

Gates law (section 14) does not seem fully to protect and safeguard the people and

"Whereas, The acquisition of one of the public utilities, to-wit: A water supply, etc., is an absolute necessity for the inhabitants of the bay cities and cannot be delayed until said section can be amended at the next regular session of the legislature of California (in 1915); be it therefore

"Resolved, That the Alameda County Civic Association, through its officers, direct the legislature or the legislative assembly to issue a call for a special session of the legislature with the object to amend the Gates law (section 14) so as to enable the people of the State of California to have public utility districts administered by boards consisting of representatives of the different legislative bodies, one for each municipality, and of members elected by the people and subject to the recall; be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the honorable board of supervisors of Alameda county with a request to postpone setting a date for the municipal water district election until some action has been taken in regard to this resolution."

SPECIAL MEETING.

A special meeting will be held Saturday night by the organization to consider the work of the public utilities campaign committee.

Chairman B. A. Gamble appointed the following committees to serve for the next term: Visiting and membership, C. R. Tinsley, chairman. Delegates to Civic Association, Carl Walliser, chairman.

Press and publicity, Carl Walliser, chairman. Water, Clem Miller, chairman.

Press and publicity, Carl Walliser, chairman.

STATE BRIEFS.

CHICO, Sept. 24.—Justice of the Peace Farnes and Constables Crum and McElowney, who lost one decision in the Superior Court in a suit to recover $4500 alleged to be due them for fees, prepared papers in another suit for $4500 for additional fees.

They appealed the first case, and this with the one to be filed tomorrow makes $9000 sued for.

The supervisors held up the claims, alleging the officers employed and worked overtime to gather in fees.

HOLDS BUCKET, SAVES LIFE.

OROVILLE, Sept. 24.—Fred Maack, a miner, caught by a rapidly descending 500-pound skip at the bottom of a 50-foot shaft, held it on his shoulders and back yesterday. Any attempt to get from under it meant that he would be crushed to death, so he held the great iron bucket for several minutes. His strength was gradually yielding under the weight and it was only a matter of a few seconds before he would have fallen and been crushed when his plight was discovered and the skip raised by the miner running the case at the top of the shaft.

WASHES HANDS; ESCAPES.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24.—Just before Mrs. H. Callahan appeared in the Sebastopol police court yesterday morning with a $50 check which she said had been forged by R. E. Duncan, that war-sides English, she of the famous and ancient feud of the Hohenzoellers and the Guelph family. Consequently, the Kaiser is wrath, and proposes calling a family council, according to prevailing rumors.

PASTOR OFFERS TO RESIGN.

CHICO, Cal., Sept. 24.—The Rev. W. A. Hunter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, has offered his office to help the church financially. His offer will be considered by the congregation. The church is in debt for $18,000. Janitors have been discharged, the choir has been let go and now the pastor agrees to step aside and let the salary paid to the church debt. Unless a loan can be negotiated, the church probably will be closed for a few months.

RIVER AT LOWEST.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—Dropping to 25 feet above the zero point on the gauge, the Sacramento river this morning was at the lowest stage recorded in the history of the local weather bureau office, whose records date back to 1874. This means that the river was 21 feet above mean sea level, as the zero point on the gauge is 3 feet below mean sea level.

27 CENTS FOR HOPS.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24.—One offer of 27 cents for hops was made yesterday, and it was not accepted. Otherwise there was a lull in the market. There never was a more remarkable situation presented in the California hop market, certainly not here. With picking only just completed and with baling hardly commenced, there remains unsold in the state only 20,000 bales. Of this amount 12,000 are in Sonoma county. Several hundred more bales have been sold at 25 cents.

GOOD PRICE FOR GRAPES.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24.—John Geott of the Alpine winery here set a high price for grapes for winemaking. Geott went into the market yesterday and purchased several crops of grapes in this vicinity at 43¢ a ton. This is the largest price paid for grapes here for years. The prices are ranging like this: $22.50, $24, $25, $26 and $28.

GOOD REASON FOR HIS ENTHUSIASM

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially so when the case is a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by Chamberlain Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass.

SLEEP

During sleep the necessary body-repairs are carried on in the "human workshop."

Anything that prevents sound sleep at the proper time (at night) will sooner or later prevent "smooth running" during the day.

That "drowsy feeling" in the forenoon (when everyone should feel bright and fit) is often caused by want of sound, refreshing sleep the night before.

Very often the habitual use of coffee is back of sleepless nights.

WORK STOPS ON STREET REPAIRING

Deadlock Still Exists in As-phalting Upper B Street in Hayward.

HAYWARD, Sept. 24.—A deadlock still exists in the laying of Upper B street with asphalt. The contractors for the work, which will cost over $20,000, have plowed up the roadway for a considerable distance.

Then came Engineer Robert Goodwin's mandate to cease work, and the gang at work on the street laying have been idle for over a week and the roadway remains in its torpid condition. The stopping of the work has given residents on B street some concern, and questions are being asked why operation are not proceeded with immediately.

P. J. McInerney, the contractor who has undertaken the laying of asphalt on Upper B street, has received a vote of confidence from the town trustees as to his ability to finish the relaying of the street according to the contract.

McInerney has given a promise that he will do the work according to arrangement, but has asked a little time in which to secure the necessary backing.

There will also be a country store and amusement and refreshment booths. Games, including tennis, will be played in the grounds, while the children will have the run of the playgrounds and ponies will be placed at the command of the little ones. No doubt the fete has been fixed for the fete, but it is likely that it will be held toward the end of October. Mrs. Henry Wetherbee heads the committee of the guild working on the arrangements.

CHICKEN THIEF SOUGHT BY POLICE OF MELROSE

MELROSE, Sept. 24.—A. B. Brown, 2019 Boulevard, complained to the Melrose police that someone had broken into his poultry house early yesterday morning and stolen half a dozen chickens. The chickens are of common stock, and only of pot value, but the doctor never failed and has lost the plumpest specimens of the coop, and is anxious that the thief be brought to book. PASADENA MAN IS MAKING BIG TOUR

Southern Dentist Makes Fuel Economy Record With Overland.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)
New York welcomed a new transcontinental motorist last week when Dr. Lee C. Denning of Pasadena, California, drove his model 59 Overland down Broadway in the eastern metropolis and finished a tour of 10,238 miles. Dr. Denning in his trip set a new record for long distance fuel economy, having averaged 15.32 miles over every variety of road that the United States offers to a gallon of gasoline. He left his home in Pasadena on May 31, taking the midland trail to Salt Lake City, Cheyenne and Omaha, and reaching Cleveland, a distance of 3000 miles from his starting place, in twenty-two days. He visited at his former home in Oil City, Pa., for a month, then toured through the Adirondacks into Canada and through all the New England states to New York. In spite of the fact that the Overland carried 1500 weight in passengers and camping equipment, there was not a serious breakage during the journey, the only accident being the fracture of one leaf of a rear spring when the car plunged into a washout in the western desert. The two front tires with which Dr. Denning began the trip were still on the car when Broadway was reached, and to all appearances are good for several thousand miles more of cross-country travel.

BENNETT IS MOURNED.

"In the death of George W. Bennett the automobile industry loses one of its greatest figures, a man who like but few others understood the power of organization—a practical, hostile of genuine team work in the world of commerce," said John W. Willys, when he arrived at Toledo Friday morning, after being informed of the sudden death of the vice-president and general manager of the Willys-Overland company. Mr. Willys had just returned from a tour of Europe and the news of Mr. Bennett's death was awaiting him when he disembarked from the Imperator in New York.

ROOSEVELT QUESTIONS ACCUSED JEWEL THIEF

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Colonel Roosevelt, his son, Theodore Roosevelt Jr., and a detective visited Nassau County Jail at Mineola this morning to question George R. Parker, former butler for Colonel Roosevelt, who is in jail on a charge of having stolen $10,000 worth of jewelry from Roosevelt's home at Sagamore hill. It is understood that Roosevelt was especially anxious to find out what disposition Parker had made of a jade bracelet which he had stolen from the latter being a present from a diplomatic representative from Central America. It is said that Parker insisted that he did not remember stealing the ring or fob.

SUS AMIGOS ASSEMBLY.

Final arrangements have been completed by the members of the Sus Amigos dancing club for their first assembly, which will be held in the ballroom of the Hotel Hamilton, at the corner of Broadway and Highland avenues, the evening of September 28. The decorations of the hall will be the club pennants, pink and blue intermingled with palms, ferns and evergreens. The membership of the club will consist of the young ladies of St. Leo's parish of Piedmont and of the younger set of that vicinity. The following are appointed on the various committees: Reception, Misses Kellers, Miss Ethel Carroll, Miss Irene McCloy, Miss Margaret Carpenter, Miss Loretta Donnelly and Miss

SOCIETY AT DANCING.

Faint murmurs of doubt as to whether the dancing or tea dance which was met with such approval in the past and fashionable resorts of the ultra smart set, would meet with a success were hushed after yesterday's elaborate function at the St. Francis hotel across the bay. That the affair was a complete success, the ball might have been one of the exclusive assemblies. Many were gowned in costumes of black and white, although colors were worn as well by the younger set.

That the affair was most exclusive and one of the most select of the season was proven by the fact that without an invitation it was an impossibility to enter the ballroom. Past the representatives of the Burlingtons, past the representatives of Mr. and Mrs. Crane and the officials of the hotel itself, the guests were obliged to wend their way through the "sacred portals" to the assemblage.

In all there were about two hundred and fifty guests present; handsomely gowned women and debutantes of the season danced the new 1914 model of the much discussed "rag" whilst others watched the special stars dance the tango. In the boxes above the ballroom sat the patronesses and leaders of the exclusive sets who looked on with approval at the latest craze of society. Among those who were present were Mrs. H. C. Capwell, who chaperoned a number of the young girls of this side of the bay, including Miss Phyllis Lovell, Miss Dorothy Capwell, Miss Elise Osborne, Miss Helen Nichol and Miss Margaret Morla. With them were Misses White, Johnson, Rekan, Rodgers, Wood and Barrett. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farr and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown were among those who had guests for the afternoon, as did Mrs. Sylvia Farnham and Mr. and Mrs. Monte Taylor. Others present were Miss Florence Henshaw, Mrs. Wm. G. Henshaw, Mrs. Christian de Guisno, Mrs. Frederick McNear, Mrs. William B. Tubbs and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry East Miller will leave October 3 for the eastern coast and later for a trip abroad, which will keep them away from home for more than a year. Tomorrow afternoon the Hensaws will entertain with an elaborate luncheon in honor of Mrs. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson will give a dinner next Monday evening in compliment to Mrs. Miller at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

BROKEN HEARTS MENDED

By LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY. (Copyright, 1913, By Laura Jean Libbey.)

PEOPLE pay fabulous sums to visit the old world, intent upon its ruins, its castles and its history where lovers met, plighted their vows, living out their romances.

There are more ruined castles in our own land than most people know of, heirlooms which many families possess. But instead of proudly acknowledging them they are most carefully hidden from public view—these are ruined love castles. When they were first reared they were the proudest and fairest of any in the land. The founders of these castles with the heroes of their dreams, of wondrous entertainments held in the peary halls. The foundations of these castles were built upon the pillars of hope. When adverse winds swept love away hope crumbled and the structure lay in ruins, their hearts in their midst.

It is next to impossible to ever expect to reconstruct the old habitation. The girl is wise who sets about erecting a new structure. The second one is sure to be more substantial. Reality must be combined with hope to support its fair columns. Most maidens do not give themselves up to rosy dreams until the betrothal ring is on their finger and the wedding day set. Even then they are chary of building a too magnificent love castle.

With the coming of her first sweetheart every girl begins to plan a most delightful future for herself. Such day dreams belong to youth and to love's bewitching dream. It is the golden setting of the jewel of courtship.

When a mother sees her daughter sitting by the parlor window watching her sweetheart's departing form as he vanishes down the street, with a smile on her lips and a dreamy look on her face, she fancies that she is building air castles of the home which shall be theirs. When some slight difference arises between them the mother knows that this air castle has tumbled. She sees the expression of hopelessness on the girl's face.

There always will be love castles built as long as there are youthful hearts. Some last for all time. Others collapse even when there is no seeming cloud in the sky and apparently without reason. It is best that their ruins should not be on view to others, who have no interest in the life stories they can tell of those who loved but whom fate parted and who went their separate ways.

The building of love castles is not only the diversions of inexperienced youth. Even the most experienced of women sometimes have thoughts wander through them, even though the sun of her life be setting.

While a woman has life, strength, or comparative youth she should never allow her heart to break over the demolishing of a love castle, but set bravely to work to rear a firmer structure that will last.

SHOULD SHE GIVE A PRESENT?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been keeping company with a young man for several months. His youngest brother is giving a birthday party, which my friend has invited me to attend. Would you advise me to give him a present for his birthday as long as I am going to attend the party?"

I do not approve of present giving at birthday parties. The obligation to bring a present takes away much of the pleasure of the affair otherwise would provide. Especially does it seem the height of folly to bring a gift to a birthday party given for a grown man.

SHOULD SHE HAVE A RING?

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a girl of 20. Have been engaged to a man of 25 for about six months. What I would like to know is this: How soon after the proposal should he get the ring? He comes to see me three or four nights a week and seems to care very much. Is that too often and is it proper? But he has never got an engagement ring or has never even mentioned it. Don't you think he should? Should I say anything about it? Should a girl consider herself engaged without a ring from him?"

Perhaps he cannot afford a ring, Jane. The question of whether he should or should not buy you an engagement ring depends largely on his financial position.

HOSTESS AT SHOWER.

Mrs. E. Frank Harrison will be a hostess at a miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Lillian Russell, the fiancée of Vincent Hiram Westford, Friday evening, September 26. Covers will be laid for thirty guests at an elaborate supper. The evening will be spent in cards and music. The wedding of Miss Treacy will take place October 1, and will be solemnized with a nuptial high mass at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Maurice Barry will officiate. Among those who are included in the guest list Friday evening are Mrs. James Tinsley, Mrs. Hiram Westford, Mrs. Earl Champey, Mrs. L. Brooks, Misses Reilly, Anna May, Pauline May, Margaret Brophy, Monica McManis, A. J. McNally, Mac McNally, Genevieve Hudson, Mrs.

NEW STYLES DESCRIBED BY FASHION CREATOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Paul Poiret, who "creates" gowns in Paris, now visiting America, held an informal reception for newspaper folk yesterday. "I came to America to see my friends, to observe the manner in which American women express my designs on their own health, in their own setting. My work is my art and not a commodity. Of necessity it becomes commercial," he said.

The talk was half finished when a door at the side opened and a tall woman with a boyish figure appeared. She was Madame Poiret. She wore a robe of brocade and turban of the same material, wrapped Turkish fashion about her head.

VETERAN SEEKS DIVORCE.

The couple were married in Washington, D. C., in 1914, and lived in Escondido, Cal., until Schilling came here to establish a residence and his wife went to Seattle.

UNCLE SAMUEL'S BREAD RECIPT KNOWN TO WOMEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The official recipe for the bread that Uncle Sam makes was given out by Miss Hannah Vessler, the government breadmaker, at the Department of Agriculture yesterday. It is known as the "straight dough method."

Four three-pound loaves first make a ferment of one ounce cake of compressed yeast, one ounce granulated sugar, one-half ounce of salt and twenty ounces of water.

After twenty minutes setting take up the dough with hands slightly greased and fold over and over fourteen times. Cover, set aside for twenty minutes and then fold nine times.

After twenty minutes more fold into loaves and cook in a steady oven, 400 to 410 degrees Fahrenheit. Forty minutes' baking will suffice. A cup of water in the oven during the baking will make a tender crust and lessen the danger of scorching.

Then mix the flour and ferment together. Cover the mixture and warm for twenty minutes. If dough is too stiff, add lukewarm water.

On Temperate Living

By LILLIAN RUSSELL (Copyright, 1913, By Lillian Russell.)

HERE is a story of a rich man, miserable with his burdens of wealth, and a poor man, tortured for want of money, meeting one day.

"If I could change places with you I would give all the wealth I possess, and I have millions," said the rich man.

"Why?" asked the poor man. "I am tormented with the gout," replied the rich man.

"So am I," said the poor man. "Well, then," said the rich man, "I would not make the exchange, for I do not understand gout."

There are plenty of things a rich man cannot understand; he has given such close attention to the pursuit of wealth that he has not taken time from his mad race to look about him and see other things in the world. The fox hunter on a hot trail does not appreciate the beauty of the country through which the chase leads him.

It was an astonishing thing to the rich man that a poor man could have the gout—an ailment which generally is supposed to have its origin in rich living.

The gout which comes from a combination of overeating and drinking too much rare wine, however, is no more painful than gout which comes from lack of nourishment and absorbing too much alcohol and malt from the cheap liquors the poor man drinks.

Frequently the poor man drinks too much, instead of eating a hearty meal; or he may drink vile, cheap liquors because he is discouraged and the stuff makes him forget—temporarily.

But gout is gout, be it to the rich man or poor man, and it is torture. Had the rich man been temperate with his eating and drinking, and the poor man more careful to obtain all possible nourishment with his limited means, both would have avoided indescribable suffering.

What pleasure can there be in the possession of millions when the health is gone and suffering tortures the body day and night?

What chance has the poor man, who needs all his strength for life's battle, to improve his lot if he denies himself sustenance to indulge his appetite for strong, cheap, injurious drink?

But between these conditions comes that of the man who lives normally, temperately in all things, intelligently, happily.

He has no gout, neither the rich man's nor the poor man's. He may not have much money, or he may have a great deal; but whatever his condition, he has good, hard, common sense.

There is no necessity of pointing out the lesson in these various conditions of life. It is only necessary to—

Remember: That the law of compensation never is broken in this world, much as it may seem to be. Humans must pay the price for infraction of nature's laws.

P. M.—I would not advise you to clean your hair with gasoline. The best thing to cleanse the hair with is a good shampoo. What you need is a course of scalp treatments. I would advise you to try and massage your scalp daily—at night just before retiring is the best time.

Use a good hair tonic while massaging the scalp. Do this for a month or so, then wash the hair with a good shampoo. Then continue the treatment with the massage and hair tonic. There is nothing better for giving hair life and to prevent it from falling than scalp massage. It stimulates the roots of the hair and gives nutrition. Send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I shall be happy to send you a formula for a hair tonic with complete instructions for scalp massage.

D. F.—Gentle massage with warm goose butter is good for developing the bust. A simple but helpful exercise for this purpose is as follows: Clench the fists vigorously and bring them together in front, the arms being raised to horizontal position. With the arms at shoulder level gradually separate the fists as widely as you can. In this way the muscles of the chest, shoulders and back are exercised and developed. Deep breathing also is good for this purpose. It should be practiced frequently, taking deep inhalations through the nostrils, holding the breath for a few seconds, then letting it out through the nostrils. Practice the exercise for five minutes each morning upon arising. You will find that this will help you wonderfully. I shall be glad to send you instructions for developing the bust and a set of deep breathing exercises. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

To introduce my friends to the "typhoon rag." Miss Barker says she received her first knowledge of the storm when her head came in contact, about 5 a. m., with the berth above her.

"It was more effective than an alarm clock and equally noisy," said the young lady. "I supplied the noise. Then I was treated to a shower bath right there in the stateroom. About a million gallons of water came through the port-holes. The cool briny caused me to forget the bump in a jiffy, and, deciding that I had enough of the shower, which I succeeded in closing after a hard tussle, during which my feet occasionally touched the floor."

The Nippon encountered the typhoon four days out of Yokohama. For two days the steamer tossed about on the fringes of the tempest before riding free. Most of the passengers kept, or tried to keep, to their berths, but Miss Barker, according to the gallant officers of the liner, refused to permit the typhoon to interfere either with her navigation or her appetite.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN FLOATING PALACE

PITTSBURG, Sept. 24.—Two pipes, two cans of opium and the arrest of a woman giving the name of Myrtle Lee was the net result of a midnight raid on the "Floating Palace," a house of alleged questionable repute on New York Island near Pittsburg by S. A. Sutherland, an agent of the State Pharmacy Board, and Constable C. H. Palmer of Pittsburg last night. The pipes and opium were found under a pillow in the bedroom of the Lee woman. Four other women and six men in the place at the time of the raid were not arrested.

Information that opium was being sent to the Floating Palace from San Francisco prompted Sutherland to telephone Justice of the Peace Hayden of Pittsburg last night to issue a search warrant on the palace. With Constable Palmer, Sutherland went to the palace and after a search brought the pipes and opium to light. The Lee woman was released on $200 bail.

NO CLINGING GOWNS FOR ANGEL CITY GIRLS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—School uniforms for the co-eds of the city in place of split skirts and slinky creations has become an issue before the women's clubs of Southern California. Yesterday at the meeting of the presidents and board members of the District Federation of Women's Clubs a movement was launched to innovate school uniforms in the public schools.

Mrs. Jane M. Beatty, vice-president of the federation, is the leader in the dress reform campaign. While sailor suits and simple one-piece dresses are recommended for the dress of the co-eds during the summer, Navy blue Peter Thompson suits, with long sleeves and high collars, are recommended for the winter.

"I am strongly in favor of the dress uniform for our school girls," said Mrs. Beatty today. "The danger, started with

SEEK REMOVAL OF TILDEN WILL EXECUTOR

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Anna Gould, Duchess de Talliand-Perigord, and three other beneficiaries under the will of Samuel J. Tilden, have started proceedings in the Supreme Court to have George W. Smith removed as trustee and executor of the Tilden estate, and to have Cornelius B. Tyler appointed in his place. In addition to the Duchess de Talliand-Perigord they are George H. Tilden, nephew; Caroline B. Whittlessey and Susan T. Sablin.

The principal allegation against Smith is that he refuses to come to an agreement as to the selection of a trustee to take the place of John Bigelow, who died in 1911.

The Tildens will directed the surviving executors to elect a third trustee immediately upon the death of one of them, but nothing has been done, although nearly two years have intervened since the death of Bigelow. Another point upon which the two trustees are hopelessly divided, is as to the erection of a monument to the memory of Tilden, for which he provided funds.

MINISTERS HOLD DOWN TENT DURING WIND

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24.—A strong norther blew Monday night and early yesterday morning. For a time the gusts threatened an immense tent in which revivalists are holding meetings. At midnight the Rev. Willis G. White, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. W. H. Nelson, pastor of the Fifth-street M. E. Church South; the Rev. C. W. de Vol of the Holiness Church, and the Rev. J. R. Curry, the evangelist, hurried to the tent grounds. The ministers worked with a will in holding down the canvas. They strengthened the fastenings and the ropes and held on heroically until the wind subsided.

COUNTY FAIR ONE OF THE BEST EVER GIVEN, IS VERDICT

RECORD WILL BE HARD TO BEAT

Pleasanton Scene of Animation During Show That's Worth Seeing.

Special Trains Bring Many Visitors to View Excellent Exhibits.

PLEASANTON, Sept. 24.—This city is a typical rural center today. For the next three days it will be one of the busiest agricultural towns in the state. Indications this morning point to the Alameda county fair management setting a record which it will be hard to eclipse in a show of the kind. The last of the stock exhibits had been brought in and safely stalled overnight, the various departments had completed the arranging and setting of the displays and everything was in proper trim for the opening of the fair today.

From early morning crowds of agriculturists from all parts of the county poured in by the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific. The visitors and tourists cut for a day's amusement and instruction swelled the throng at the fair grounds and the turnstiles clicked merrily. This is "Pleasanton and Livermore day" at the fair and the residents of the valleys and hills for miles around came in by automobile, stage and train. The local people are proud of their representation in the different sections of the show, the Livermore valley being especially good and much admired.

MUCH TO SEE.

It would take a whole day to make a thorough inspection of the various exhibits. The pick of vegetables and farm produce from gardens and farms of well-known farmers all over the county are entered in competition and the judges are having a hard time in coming to a decision. A round of the various exhibits is a revelation as to what the county can produce and it may safely be said that the display from point of view of quality will hold its own with any in the state.

After a round of the exhibits the visitors were free to enjoy themselves in many ways and the fair attractions, including the best entertainment features from the Sacramento state fair, were well patronized.

Tomorrow is Washington and Eden township day and agriculturists and others from Hayward, San Leandro and the agricultural districts are planning to attend the fair. Friday, September 25, is school day, when the school children and teachers will be admitted free. The schools exhibit is one of the finest features of the fair and 100 substantial prizes are awarded in the section. Pupils will give exhibitions of school work during one of the days.

WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

The woman's department makes another attractive display and in this section also there is keen rivalry for the handsome prizes awarded by the management.

The fair association has more than 500 prizes available. The following men are in charge of the various departments: Fruit, Henry Dakin; vegetables, M. V. Perry; horses, Tony Goulart; cattle, W. J. Martin; machinery, H. P. Mohr.

Husband and Girl Eloped, Says Woman

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 24.—Charging that her husband, Max Reiss, has disappeared with a pretty 17-year-old girl and $8200, all the money he had, Mrs. Reiss has started the police on the trail of the eloping couple and the coin. The chief of police today is busy notifying the police of many cities to watch for the pair. Mrs. Reiss was manager of a hotel in San Diego. His wife claims she did most of the work, and the money taken by her husband was largely the fruit of her labors. It was in a safety deposit box and she says that her husband secured the key to the box after knocking her down. Reiss and the girl are believed to be headed for New York City, Reiss' former home.

Girl Shows Signs of Rare Art Talent Seven-Year-Old Ambitious to Win Fame

To become an artist of international fame is the ambition of Vivian Henriette Stechhan, 7-year-old daughter of Mrs. Genevieve Stechhan of Berkeley and the late Frank W. Stechhan, who was widely known as a theatrical artist.

In England, Little Vivian has already displayed signs of rare genius with water colors and for the past year she has been engaged in coloring pictures of herself which were made by photographers. She loves to color pictures of her face with a bright tinting which she carefully selects. Vivian studies the combination and harmony of colors although she has never received instruction in painting. With naive simplicity she exhibits her work, and is very proud of the manner in which she paints herself. She is a very pretty brunette, with a wealth of black curls and black eyes which make her very attractive. Drawing is also one of Vivian's fads. She is always at work with her brush and pencil and has created many original pictures which are now being commented upon by art students and critics. Many artists are interested in her work, which shows exceptional talent. Her conception of things is broad, and unlike children of her age, she devotes more time to her work than to play. She is very fond of dancing and has often been invited to give her graceful interpretations of the ballroom dances at public and private affairs.

Vivian prefers the early morning hours for her art work and the afternoon for dancing. She systematically plans her sketches, which are marked by their individuality. The juvenile artist has a collection of colored pictures which she painted by her before she reached the age of 7.

Each day she devises new ways and means for improving her work, which is original. Without announcing her ideas, she proceeds to her studio and objects to any disturbance. For several hours daily she paints and draws. She is a keen observer and is a lover of nature.

As soon as Vivian has completed her elementary education she will enter an art school, where she will perfect herself in her lifework.

BURGLAR ROUTED BY WOMAN'S SCREAMS

Mrs. M. F. Mason Has a Harrowing Experience With Thug

Aroused by the sound of someone moving about her room early this morning, Mrs. M. F. Mason, 1485 First avenue, saw a man standing near her bureau. Mrs. Mason screamed with fear, arousing other members of the family.

The intruder rushed into the bath room adjoining and climbed to a chair which he had placed in readiness to make his exit when he had gathered the loot. Climbing from the chair to the window he dropped a distance of about twenty feet into the garden and made his escape.

Mrs. Mason sustained a severe nervous shock from her experience. She is the widow of the late Charles F. Mason.

The police rushed to the scene. They found that the man had climbed to the bath room window by using the drain pipe. Nothing of value was taken.

The burglary is the first in the Lakeside district for several months and the police are puzzled as to whether it is an ordinary housebreaking or whether the Lakeside burglar has resumed operations. Captain of Inspectors Lou F. Agnew has de-

No Bible Readings In Portland Schools

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—The school board of Portland last night voted that the Bible shall not be read in the public schools.

The decision followed an argument before the board as to the literary, historical and ethical merit of the Scriptures. When the board's decision was announced applause followed.

Opponents of the ministers' proposal declared that even merely reading the books would bias the pupil in proportion to the personality of the teacher. The Jewish and Lutheran ministers were among the opponents to the plan.

PARTY RULES MAY FACE REVISION

Republican Leaders Approve of Platform of New York State Convention.

Outline Policy Regarding Tariff and Currency Measures of Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Republican leaders in Washington identified from the first with the demand for a Republican national convention to revise party rules and procedure, expressed strong approval today of the platform adopted yesterday by the New York Republican state convention. The Republican national executive committee which last summer agreed to call the entire national committee within sixty days after the adjournment of congress, is now being urged to take immediate action.

STATES TO NAME DELEGATES.

The specific demands of those who want the party procedure changed according to those chiefly interested in the movement here, are clearly embraced in the resolutions of the New York convention, namely, to allow states to determine the method of selecting their delegates to national conventions on the number of votes cast for the party candidates at previous elections.

The platform adopted last night opens with a plank against the recall of judges and judicial decisions. It says:

"The Republican party condemns all proposals to intimidate judges in the discharge of their duty by threats of a recall in case of an unpopular decision and all proposals to nullify the will of the courts at the will of temporary public clamor through the recall of decisions."

State questions are dealt with at length and in this connection the platform says: "The coming election will have a special significance, because the election of the Republican candidates now presented offers the means—and the only means—for the people of the state to repeal and reject the malign control of Tammany Hall over the politics and government of the state and over the highest judicial tribunal of the state. Tammany is no longer a local issue; it grasps the state."

Charges of "waste, inefficiency and corruption" also are made against the Democratic state administration.

Reverting to national issues, faith is reaffirmed in the "Republican principles of protection to American workmen, American industries and the American farmer." Belief is expressed that Democratic tariff reform will prove a failure. Regarding currency legislation the platform adds:

"We denounce the Democratic banking and currency bill as menacing the business interests of the country, and as inimical to the interests of the whole people."

Principles:
First—That the interests of the owners and managers of banks and those of business men and the public generally are in conflict. In fact, all these interests are identical.

Second—That paper money should be issued by the Government and should be in the Government's credit. This is unsound, unscientific and condemned by experience. It is but a short step from this to great business disaster.

Third—That the control and administration of the banks should be taken in

Edson F. Adams having been required to give his deposition on one of the numerous suits brought by him against Samuel D. Prather, appeared at the law office of M. C. Chapman and E. E. Trefethen yesterday morning, the time set for the hearing, and refused to take the oath required by law, claiming that William S. Wells Jr., the notary before whom his deposition was to be taken, was incompetent to act as such notary for the reason that he was an attorney for one of the numerous defendants named in the suit.

The hearing of the deposition was then continued to 2 o'clock and contempt proceedings instituted before Judge Murphy. Adams kept away from the courtroom. His attorneys, however, did appear in court, claiming that at the moment they did not represent but were there only as the friends of the court. The whole matter being laid before Judge Murphy, he ordered the sheriff to bring Adams before him to show cause, if any he had, why he should not be compelled to take the oath and answer the deposition.

STATES TO NAME DELEGATES.

The specific demands of those who want the party procedure changed according to those chiefly interested in the movement here, are clearly embraced in the resolutions of the New York convention, namely, to allow states to determine the method of selecting their delegates to national conventions on the number of votes cast for the party candidates at previous elections.

The platform adopted last night opens with a plank against the recall of judges and judicial decisions. It says:

"The Republican party condemns all proposals to intimidate judges in the discharge of their duty by threats of a recall in case of an unpopular decision and all proposals to nullify the will of the courts at the will of temporary public clamor through the recall of decisions."

State questions are dealt with at length and in this connection the platform says: "The coming election will have a special significance, because the election of the Republican candidates now presented offers the means—and the only means—for the people of the state to repeal and reject the malign control of Tammany Hall over the politics and government of the state and over the highest judicial tribunal of the state. Tammany is no longer a local issue; it grasps the state."

Charges of "waste, inefficiency and corruption" also are made against the Democratic state administration.

Reverting to national issues, faith is reaffirmed in the "Republican principles of protection to American workmen, American industries and the American farmer." Belief is expressed that Democratic tariff reform will prove a failure. Regarding currency legislation the platform adds:

"We denounce the Democratic banking and currency bill as menacing the business interests of the country, and as inimical to the interests of the whole people."

Principles:
First—That the interests of the owners and managers of banks and those of business men and the public generally are in conflict. In fact, all these interests are identical.

Second—That paper money should be issued by the Government and should be in the Government's credit. This is unsound, unscientific and condemned by experience. It is but a short step from this to great business disaster.

Third—That the control and administration of the banks should be taken in

Edson F. Adams having been required to give his deposition on one of the numerous suits brought by him against Samuel D. Prather, appeared at the law office of M. C. Chapman and E. E. Trefethen yesterday morning, the time set for the hearing, and refused to take the oath required by law, claiming that William S. Wells Jr., the notary before whom his deposition was to be taken, was incompetent to act as such notary for the reason that he was an attorney for one of the numerous defendants named in the suit.

The hearing of the deposition was then continued to 2 o'clock and contempt proceedings instituted before Judge Murphy. Adams kept away from the courtroom. His attorneys, however, did appear in court, claiming that at the moment they did not represent but were there only as the friends of the court. The whole matter being laid before Judge Murphy, he ordered the sheriff to bring Adams before him to show cause, if any he had, why he should not be compelled to take the oath and answer the deposition.

The Oakland club fared as well as could be expected in the minor drafts. Getting three of the six men for whom application was made, the Athletics were disappointed because of major drafts.

The three new Oaks who will report to the club in the spring are: Ted Barrenkamp, pitcher from Pittsfield, Eastern Association.

Middleton, star outfielder of Western League, from Wichita. "I am quite sure," said McFarlin, "that we need only three men by the draft. Barrenkamp is a promising man, who was recommended to us by Bud Sharpe. Jenkins was the star catcher in the Central Association and Middleton is hitting around .350 in the Western League."

Portland was the only other Coast League club to secure minor league players via the draft. The Ducks have landed outfielder William of Cedar Rapids, pitcher Brown of the same club, and catcher Kafora of Butte.

RELIEF PITCHERS-GIANTS AND MACKMEN

Doc Crandall, probably the best known first aid pitcher of either league, will most likely be called upon to perform his duty in pulling out games for the Giants in the coming world series. In 1912 his pitching average was 650%, having played in thirty-seven games, seven of which were started and finished by him. His stick work is also very effective, having batted the ball for an average of 318%. Bush of the Athletics will act in the same capacity as Crandall in the coming series. He is a youngster and has made a pitching average of 647% this season.

SOX AND GIANTS TO BE HERE TWICE

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Dan Long, former manager of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast League, arrived in Chicago today en route to the world's series, and arranged for six western dates of the world's tour of the Chicago Americans and New York Nationals. Representing Sacramento, Oakland and San Francisco clubs, he secured the following all-star lineups:

November 12, at Sacramento; November 13, at Oakland; November 14-15, at San Francisco; November 16 (morning), at Oakland; November 16 (afternoon), at San Francisco.

Long predicted that these six games, with three to be played in Los Angeles, would give the tourists $20,000 toward expenses.

EIGHT-MAN SCRUM WILL BE MAINTAINED IN COAST RUGBY

No change in the formation of the rugby team will be made this year. The proposed change to a seven-man scrum and a fourteen-man team was voted down at the meeting of the joint football rules committee, held last night in San Francisco.

It was felt by the members of the committee that the benefits to be gained from the elimination of one man from the team were not worth the trouble of making the change. One of the most important reasons for keeping the fifteen-man team is the fact that this number of men is used by the New Zealand team, which is to arrive in California next week. It was previously planned to insert a wing-forward on the Varsity for the game with the Islanders, but it is felt by the coaches that the California team would be at a distinct disadvantage even if this was done.

The eight-man scrum, with the three-man scrum, will probably be re-installed in the Varsity game next Saturday and will be used throughout the rest of the season.

Following are members of the football rules committee—California: M. P. Griffiths (chairman), Chaffee Hall 10; S. B. Pearson 13; Stanford—A. G. Halm, D. W. Burbank and J. H. Thoburn.

VANCOUVER CINCHES PENNANT

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—By winning from Victoria yesterday while Portland lost to Spokane, Vancouver settled the Northwestern League race as far as the championship is concerned.

There is now no possibility of Portland overtaking the leaders before the season closes Sunday, and interest centers in the contest between Portland and Seattle for second place. Seattle now being one game and a half behind Portland.

The standings of the three leading teams, including today's games, is: Clubs Won. Lost. Pct. Vancouver.....25 65 .284 Portland.....23 70 .247 Seattle.....24 70 .251

MITZE DRAFT CANCELLED; PRIVATE DEAL SUSPECTED

Major League Manager Anyhow, Even Though Henus Remains

By BILLY FITZ.

PRIVATE telegram received by the writer today from Garry Hermann, chairman of the national commission, announced that the draft made by St. Louis on Manager Honus Mitze of the Oakland club had been cancelled, but gave no explanation.

In the absence of any explanation from Manager Leavitt, Secretary Jack Cook, Assistant Secretary McFarlin and Mitze himself are completely at sea over the situation.

The presumption is that the clause which requires that a drafted player being given 25 per cent increase in salary over what he was getting in the minor league was the reason which prompted St. Louis to cancel the draft.

BURNS MUST WAIT NOW FOR AZEVEDO: ROHAN

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

RANKIE BURNS' deposit of $500 as a side bet to bind a match with Joe Azevedo is interesting, in that it shows that a modern boxer can command real money even in a while. As soon as he finds that the side bet is neither decorative or useful, Frankie will probably return it to the place whence it came and trot it out again under more auspicious circumstances.

Promoter Jimmy Rohan is inclined to condemn Burns severely.

Said Jimmy, this morning: "Burns has no serious intention of meeting Azevedo and did not trot out the money until he was convinced that Joe had lined up matches which were too good for us to discard in his favor. We could not get him into the ring before with Azevedo until we agreed not to compel him to make weight. He tried his best to crawl out of the match, claiming that he had a sore foot and couldn't do road work. I have information that he was out on the road every day while training to meet Azevedo."

Only last Monday I offered Burns 25 per cent of the house to box Louis Rees, and he refused. He offered Burns $100 a year ago in this city, and in the opinion of practically every sporting writer who saw the scrap, Burns quit cold, claiming a foul.

Burns is afraid of Azevedo and I anticipate a great deal of trouble getting him in the ring when the time really comes to talk business. I certainly don't propose to turn down men like Johnny Dundee and Bud Anderson in favor of Burns, and while there is a chance to get someone better for October, Burns will have to wait, just as he kept us waiting for the fight with Azevedo."

Rohan received the following telegram from Jimmy Rohan, 514 Washington St., Oakland, Cal.: "Frankie Burns quit cold. I can beat Burns because I can out-game him. Answer, JOE AZEVEDO."

YOUNG HICKEY HAS HARD JOB CUT OUT FOR HIM IN EXPOSITO

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

Henry Hickey and Kid Exposito fight up to their reputations Friday night at the fourth round show at the eighth street arena across the street from the city hall. Hickey does not claim a wide knowledge of boxing but he is a good fighter. The local featherweight is one of the most successful boys in the game and any time he starts the fans are assured of a run for their money.

Exposito never won any medals for cleverness, he is a swimmer in boxing, and any time he connects it is certain for the other fellow. If Exposito can hold Young Azevedo even he must be conceded a chance against any lad of his weight and Hickey has a man's size job in front of him Friday night.

Tom Nickola, who boxes Southerner at the same show is working with Hickey at the Oakland Athletic club. Tom has been winning with great regularity and he expects to put the crusher on the eastern lad in the main event. Hickey will have to be at his best if he expects to do any good for himself against the Californian. The Californian is a large colored person with a hard wallop, but Willie likes the dark meat and thinks he can lick any aboriginal boxer in the world.

Grande and Dude Clark will provide the slugging base of the night and a flock of other good boys will also appear.

STILL SEEKS GUARANTEE. Al McAllister is still holding out for a guarantee of $1500 to box Otto Berg ten rounds at the Wheelmen club. This is surely a big boost for Berg as on the case of a guarantee of $1500. McAllister was afraid of Berg's size and weight, but Willie likes the dark meat and thinks he can lick any aboriginal boxer in the world.

The Wheelmen club has offered him 40 per cent of the gross receipts for the first round, but that is not the average fan figures he is worth. It is up to McAllister to box Berg under these terms or admit he is afraid of the blonde middleweight. The matchmaker of the club has thrown up his hands and suggested Shand do business with the local featherweight exponent.

Cliff Lester is anxious to box Tom Nickola any distance and is willing to cut the purse to Nickola's liking. This would be a sensational special event for one of the local clubs.

Willie Ciar (Young Abe Attell) is going back to visit his folks in Denver, and coast to coast for a couple of months. He leaves for Denver tonight with Eddie McKeena. Attell has been out here 11 months and during that time has fought 21 battles, winning 15, losing 4, and drawing 2. Among the boys he has met are Azevedo, Salvador, Johnny O'Leary, Roy Moore, Jimmy Fox, Walter Scott, Marty Kape and Kid Exposito.

Attell broke in at the pole vault in the game, and he drew with Young Attell, who has made himself very popular with local fans by his willingness to give away weight, and bar none.

FIRST TEMPLE RECORDS FOUND

Oxford Professor Says Schools Existed Early as 3200 B. C.

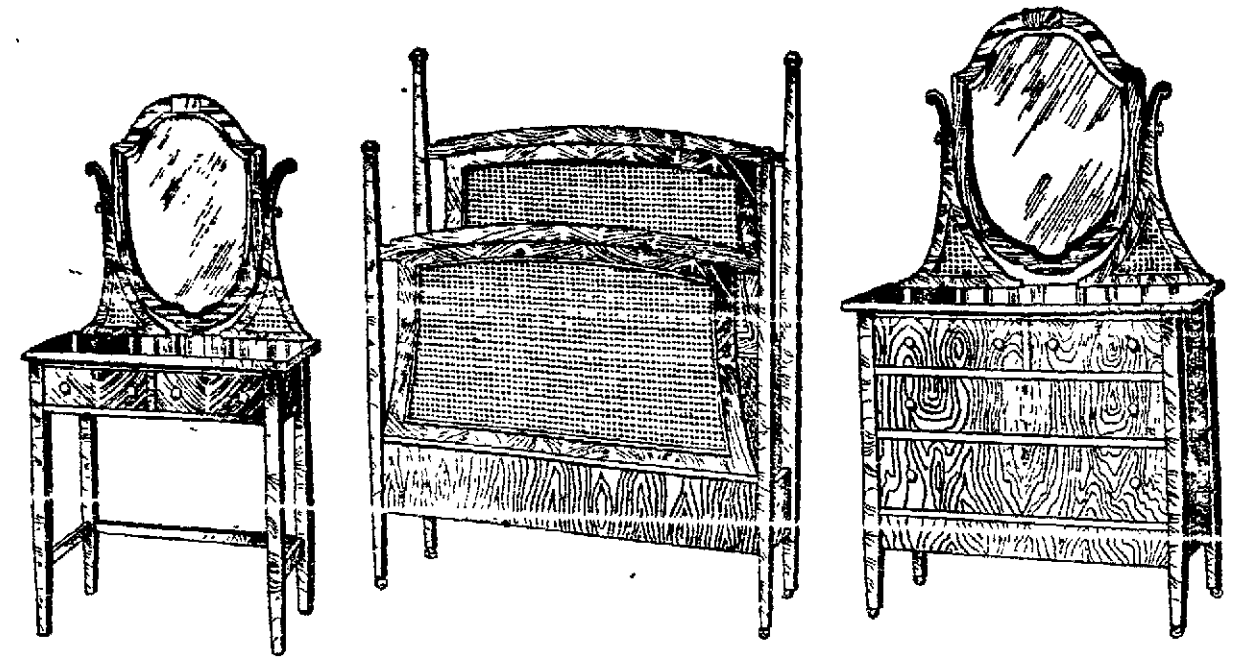

Collection of Pennsylvania University of Great Value

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Records of the first temple of learning in the world, where the original exponents of the liturgical system congregated, have just been discovered by Professor Stephen Herbert Langdon, professor of Assyriology in Oxford, who is now investigating the Nippur collection at the University of Pennsylvania. The tablets were collected in three expeditions to Nippur in the southern part of Babylonia.

"I have ascertained from my examination of the tablets that priests had a school in the temple at Nippur as early as 3200 B. C., and that this school existed about 1000 years," said Dr. Langdon.

"To these priests is due the liturgical system which spread throughout Babylonia and Assyria and influenced Greece and Rome. They were exponents of a great university, the most important center of learning. I believe it was the first school of learning, and for that reason the University of Pennsylvania collection, which discloses the presence of this university, is of the greatest value to scholars.

"The discovery will establish more clearly in the minds of scholars the fact that the origin of religious orders existed in ancient antiquity and that a very important religious order existed at the temple near Nippur."

JACKSON'S

TAXPAYERS' COLUMN

All Communications to the Editor of THE TRIBUNE must bear the signature and address of the writer

EDITOR TRIBUNE: Why should Oakland and the cities on this side of the bay, abandon the real for the ideal? Why should we leave all of our great enterprises unfinished to embark in the quixotic scheme of ownership and operation of the traction system?

That system has not made a dividend from its operation. The genius of its last owners and developers made for them money by the purchase of extensive acre properties, extending transportation through them and selling them in subdivisions at a large profit. That is the process that caused the extended Oakland and her associated cities. It stimulated our ambition in very necessary and proper directions. It caused the undertaking to create here a sufficient harbor as the basis of the large commerce of a great city. That vast work is in process and unfinished. We have an associated population of nearly half a million, and no decent and sanitary means for the disposal of its enormous garbage and city waste. The increase in our population has outgrown the capacity of our sewers, and very soon an enormous pending must be made to extend and enlarge that system upon which depends a further increase in our population. We are already at the point of the public expenditure of millions on our water supply, without which we reach the end of possible increase in our population.

With all these real things on hand, and all these beginnings made and a finish absolutely necessary to the prosperous future of this city, why should we divert our attention to the burden and cost of an experiment in the ownership and operation of a traction system that has bankrupted three different groups of owners?

Of course the politicians are in favor of it. They know a melon when they see it and are skilled in cutting it. Their opportunity would come in the political control of the street railroads.

In discussing it let them be compelled to talk business. If we are to issue the $30,000,000 or more in bonds to buy the traction system, let the bonds rest on that system alone. Let its revenues pay their principal and interest and the cost of extensions, betterment and depreciation. If the system is worth buying it should carry its own bonds and all its costs, and not make them an impairment of our bonding power for other purposes, or a burden on our general fund. This is business, for the taxpayer and for the city. It will leave our bonding power untouched and unimpaired for use, if need be, in finishing our harbor, securing water, sanitary disposal of our garbage and waste, and the adaptation of our sewer system to the needs of our growing population.

We listened to idealists in the formation of our present charter and got one that is unworkable and leaves the city treasury bankrupt every year from July to December.

Let us make no more mistakes nor lose our wind chasing rainbows.

Drink Schlitz in Brown Bottles

Read what two eminent scientists have to say about light and its effect on beer in light glass bottles.

"In recent years the observation has been made that the rays of sunlight effect a chemical change in beer. For this reason the use of beer bottles blown from colorless glass is diminishing, bottles blown from colored glass being chosen; the amber colored bottles, which, when held towards the light, show the color of light beer, are particularly to be recommended."

Extract from Die Praxis der Bierbrauerei. Published by G. E. Habich, 1883—page 786.

"It appears that chemical changes are produced in the beer, which attains an exceedingly unpleasant taste and a disagreeable odor."

Extract from Lectures on Brewing (Vol. 5) published by Hantke's Brewers School and Laboratories. Dr. G. Thevenot.

Schlitz, when poured into your glass, is wholesome and pure as a crystal spring.

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."

HARVARD BEGINS 278TH YEAR WITH OPENING

BOSTON, Sept. 24.—Harvard began its two hundred and seventy-eighth year, the registration of students occupying the day. It is expected that this year's enrollment at least will equal that of 1912, which was 8,045.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 24.—Yale threw open its doors for the beginning of its two hundred and thirteenth year. Unofficial estimates place the registration this year at about 2400. Last year it was 2388.

Moneyback means Schilling's Best; and it means the grocer returns a dissatisfied customer's money as quick as he can. What happens then? She isn't dissatisfied; can't be. Who is? Nobody. The grocer lost nothing, and she lost nothing. That's what we look at it.

URGES IMPROVEMENTS.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: A civic center, formed either by purchase of the block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Broadway and Washington streets, or the block of Broadway, from Seventh to Fourteenth, parallel with the western point of San Pablo avenue at the City Hall, forming a triangular area, a single track loop for all car lines reaching the area.

A Building Limitation—Elevations not to exceed business structures, tending to bring improvements up to a uniform line, and extend them outwardly; the strict definition of a business structure zone in each locality; say one block in each direction at outside points, and along the complete length of certain thoroughfares only; a minimum requirement as to height, style, quality and color, within narrow limits.

elevation, over rear property, and street railways; depression of all freight tracks along a commercial and manufacturing belt, and elevation of all other passenger lines to a municipal double track, from a half-stop stations at intervals not exceeding two miles. A branch line to a ferry station.

WOULD HAVE ELECTION.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: We as a committee of the whole are now bending every effort to bring before the people of Oakland an election through which we will transfer to the State Railroad Commission the control of all public utilities now owned by private corporations.

So we may enjoy the products of such utilities at a more equitable rate. You are all familiar with the facts that we have every evidence that we are not enjoying a fare and reasonable rate with the privately owned utilities.

We all feel that we are paying too much money for the goods we are receiving. We feel that the physical values of such plants are far below the values fixed by said corporations when rate making was done. It is not now possible to make a rate which we are compelled to pay. These rates are not the results of any failure or neglect on the part of the Oakland city government to perform their sworn duties. It is the lack of legal power vested in our city government to control and to regulate such corporations. The city within itself does not seem to have much more power to regulate public utilities than has an individual citizen the power to regulate the city police department.

Now for the foregoing reasons and many other matters we may speak of, a committee of citizens have appeared before the Oakland city council and requested the city council to call an election for the purpose of submitting to the voters the question:

WOULD TRANSFER POWER.

Shall the city government retain control of all privately owned utilities, or shall they be transferred to the State Railroad Commission?

Under a certain law enacted and approved January 1912, and now in full force and effect, the voters of a municipality have been given power to transfer by a majority vote the control of all public utilities owned by private corporations to the State Railroad Commission.

It being a positive fact that our city government is now clothed with the legislative power to require such corporations to fix equitable rates and to make extensions and improvements without which many parts of our city is now and has in the past been deprived of its many public utilities which have threatened the health and safety of many districts.

This all important matter should have the entire support of the people of the city, as it surely is the concern of all consumers.

You understand us correctly, we are not begging for support, as this is your cause. If there are excessive rates charged, if there are unreasonable conditions in regards to any, or all public utilities it is now within the power of your ballot. Furthermore, every person feels that they are being overcharged or in some way or other mistreated, and this is more real than imaginary. Why the rates of corporations are constantly increasing seems to be on account of the heavy taxes they pay, by having full sway and scarcely any legal restriction at all, most becomes to the public as the powers the master held over his slaves.
